Russians Offer 2 Proposals For Meeting of Big Powers

SHE WANTS TO FLY TO POW SON. Mrs. William Dunn (left) of Baltimore says she will fly to Korea "even if it takes the last cent we have" to talk with her soldier-son, Cpl. John Dunn, listed by the Chinese Communists as one of 23 Americans refusing repatriation. Mrs. Dunn said: "I don't believe my son has turned Communist." This photo, taken two years ago, shows Mrs. Dunn, her daughter, Barbara, and her husband, William, rejoicing at the news that John was listed as a prisoner of war. Barbara is holding a picture of John.

Boy's Parents Await Word In Kidnaping

Kansas City Youth, 6, Missing; Taken From School by Fake 'Aunt'

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The millionaire parents of a 6-year-old boy kidnapped by a woman who prayed before the abduction, said today they were willing to go to any lengths to get their child back safely. They said no ransom note had been received.

The boy, Robert Cosgrove Greenlease Jr., was lured from his classes in an exclusive private school on a ruse.

Pretends To Be Aunt

The woman gained admittance to the school, Notre Dame de Sion, by telling a nun Mrs. Greenlease had suffered a heart attack and the boy had to be taken to the hospital. She said she was the boy's aunt.

The nun suggested the woman pray for Mrs. Greenlease in the school chapel while she waited for the child to be called from his class. The woman walked into the chapel and knelt.

On leaving the school with Bobby, the woman remarked:

"I'm not a Catholic, but I hope God heard my prayers."

Eugene M. Pond, chief of detectives, said police were following all normal processes in the investigation and added:

"We are awaiting a request from the parents before starting an intensive investigation."

FBI Declines Comment

He said no request for such an investigation had been received, apparently out of concern for the boy's safety.

The FBI declined to comment when asked whether it was taking part in the case.

Announcement of the kidnaping was withheld from the press and radio for three hours. Police Chief Bernard C. Brannon explained authorities feared earlier disclosure might result in death or injury to the child.

Greenlease, 71, is a distributor for Cadillac.

"I don't know why anybody would do anything like this," he said. "There are so many reasons why anybody would be foolish to take such a risk. It just doesn't make sense."

The woman, described as chunky, about 35 years old and having reddish brown hair, left the school with the boy in a taxicab.

The nun then telephoned the Greenlease home, talked with Mrs. Greenlease and learned she was not ill. Then it was discovered the boy had been taken from the school on a ruse.

Describes Car

Later the taxicab driver, Willard Creech, 62, told police the woman and young Greenlease left his cab at a parking lot only a few blocks from the school. They got into a late model blue sedan with Kansas license plates and drove off.

Mrs. Greenlease collapsed from strain and was under care of a physician. The Greenleases also have an 11-year-old daughter.

About 10 days ago, a woman telephoned the Greenlease home, saying she was a representative of the public schools. She asked the ages of the children and where they attended classes. A housekeeper recalled the incident last night. School officials said they were unaware of any such survey being made.

The boy was wearing a white short sleeved shirt and short brown linen trousers when taken away. He weighs about 53 pounds, has fair skin and light brown hair.

Greenlease, active in civic affairs, has been in the automobile distributing business for 45 years. He married Mrs. Greenlease, who is in her mid-40s, in 1939 after divorcing his first wife.

SHIP NEARLY BLOWN APART. The tanker Ticonderoga limps into Los Angeles harbor with a hole you could float a tug through in her middle. The huge tunnel was made by a mysterious explosion inside the ship at sea. The tanker, inbound from Honolulu, came in under her own power. No injuries were reported.

Ask Debate On Germany, World Issues

5-Power Conference On Global Tensions Would Include China

PARIS (AP) — The Soviet Union came up today with two proposals for international conferences—a Big Four power meeting on Germany and a Five Power meeting including Red China to discuss the entire problem of world tensions.

The two proposals were contained in the latest Soviet reply to invitations from the United States, Britian and France to meet on Oct. 15 at Lugano, Switzerland, in a conference on the German and Austrian treaties.

In neither case did the Russians suggest a date or place for the meetings.

There was nothing especially new in the Soviet proposals. The Russians have asked before that the subject of Germany be dealt with before consideration of a treaty of independence for Austria. They have also proposed a meeting of the four powers and Red China to discuss a full slate of world problems. The Western powers have not gone along with either side.

The Soviet note, about 10 typewritten pages, was delivered yesterday to the three Western embassies in Moscow and relayed to Paris, London and Washington.

The Russian communication appeared to reject the Western invitation for the Big Four foreign ministers to talk about the deadlocked Austrian independence treaty at the same time they discussed Germany. Instead the Soviets said they had not received a Western answer to their note of Aug. 28 proposing that discussions on the Austrian treaty continue through diplomatic channels.

The Russians also did not specify where or when they thought the proposed five-power conference should meet.

The bulk of the Soviet note was a review of past diplomatic exchanges between the East and the West over the German problem and world tensions. The proposals for the two parleys were contained in two terse paragraphs.

Impounding Garage Sought

City Councilmen Discuss Stiffer Parking Penalties

Plans to make possible enforcement of the city's impounding ordinance for illegally parked automobiles and an increase of fines for illegal parking on Church St. were started by Marion City Council at its meeting last night.

Council directed City Solicitor George A. Piacentino to bring in legislation at its next meeting authorizing the safety-service director to advertise for bids for rental of garage space to serve as an impounding garage.

He was also asked to discuss the possibility of raising fines for parking tickets issued to motorists who park on Church St. during the 3-6 p.m. no parking hours daily except Sunday.

IN OTHER action at last night's meeting, Council discussed purchase of one lot on Jefferson St. for erection of a pumping station for the proposed Jefferson St. sanitary sewer. If purchase is not possible at a price Council feels fair, condemnation proceedings are to be started for another lot located at the corner of Jefferson St. and E Fairground St. Both properties are owned by the Ours family.

An ordinance to extend Workmen's Compensation coverage to auxiliary policemen and rescue mobile support groups was also approved.

Action to make possible enforcement of the city's automobile impounding ordinance came about as a result of a discussion of the Church St. parking problem held at Council's last meeting Sept. 14.

AT THAT TIME Councilman Harold Fralich, Sixth Ward, said illegal parking along the south side of the street between 3 and 6 p.m. was making a farce of the parking ban. He said he has found many cars parked in the no-parking zones and called for more rigid enforcement or elimination of the ban. Council decided to turn the matter over to the Municipal Service Committee for further study.

Councilman Robert G Haldeman, chairman of the committee reported last night that he checked up to determine if police are attempting to enforce the ban. He said he found that a total of 1,192 one-dollar parking tickets have been issued to motorists violating the ban since it went into effect.

HE NOTED that despite this, many park there day after day, and others who park illegally are from out of town and apparently ignore the parking signs. He suggested that the fines might be raised or that the impounding ordinance be enforced.

There followed a discussion of the possibility of adding warning signs to each meter noting the no-parking hours from 3 to 6 p.m., thus giving no one any excuse for parking along the street illegally. After discussing several possibilities Council decided no further signs are needed because of large warning signs already installed along the street.

Haldeman then made a motion that an ordinance to authorize advertisement for an impounding garage be brought before Council at its next meeting. After more discussion, Council approved this motion and added to it a request that Piacentino discuss the possibility of increasing the parking fine on Church St. with Municipal Court Judge W. Dexter Hazen and Police Chief Tom Coon.

HALDEMAN NOTED in the discussion on the impounding garage that police are presently reluctant to enforce the impounding ordinance because they have no place to safely store impounded cars. He said the police are responsible for safety of the automobiles.

McCarthy Admits Escape of Beria 'Looks Like Hoax'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) says the story that Lavrenty Beria escaped from Russia and would welcome asylum in the United States "begins to appear like a hoax."

"I am not convinced one way or the other," the senator told newsmen yesterday, "but it looks more and more as if it is not Beria."

Beria, former boss of the Russian secret police and one of the top men in the Kremlin, was denounced as a traitor by Moscow in July.

Word got out 10 days ago that McCarthy's investigations subcommittee was looking into reports that Beria had managed to flee to a neutral country and would welcome protection in this country.

Subsequently, a Madrid newspaper published unconfirmed reports that the FBI was checking a story that Beria, or someone claiming to be Beria, had parachuted into Spain and was hiding out there.

Death Claims Florida's Chief Executive, 41

Gov. Dan McCarty Succumbs to Heart Illness, Pneumonia

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Dan McCarty last night lost his gallant fight against heart trouble and pneumonia.

Death came to Florida's 41-year-old governor shortly before 10 p.m. in Tallahassee Memorial Hospital. McCarty was conscious almost to the end and spoke to his wife and his doctor a few moments before he died.

Takes Over Duties

His duties passed to Senate President Charley E. Johns, 48-year-old insurance executive, who came to Tallahassee from his home at Starke to take over until a new governor is elected in 1954 to serve the last two years of McCarty's four-year term.

Mcarty, a Fort Pierce cattleman and citrus grower, became governor in January and served less than nine months. He was the third Florida governor to die in office.

McCarty was taken to the hospital a week ago today after a severe cold he contracted the weekend of Sept 12 developed into pneumonia. He had suffered a heart attack Feb. 25 which put an end to nearly all his activities and from which he never recovered.

Heart Specialist Called

A heart specialist was flown here yesterday from New Orleans in a desperate attempt to save his life.

McCarty's 12-year-old son, Dan III, was taken from school to be at the bedside yesterday. Two other children, Mike, 7, and Frances Lela, 5, also survive in addition to their mother.

McCarty's brief administration saw the start of a program which included plans for institutional construction unparalleled in Florida's history, a system of coordinated state purchasing and a study leading to uniform employment and personnel practices for state workers.

In the Legislature, he pushed to passage a law to make dog tracks operating in Florida pay more taxes, sponsored a bill giving greater consumer representation on the state milk commission and one to give farmers and commercial fishermen a partial rebate on taxes paid on gasoline used in boats and farm machinery.

He also declared war on illegal gambling.

Entered Politics Early

McCarty was born at Fort Pierce and was a graduate of the University of Florida. He was a colonel in World War II after serving as speaker of the Florida House in 1941 at the age of 29.

Under the constitution, Johns will serve until January 1955, when a governor to be elected in November 1954 will take over for the two remaining years of McCarty's term.

Sen. McCarthy Weds Ex-Aide In Washington

Long List of Capital Notables on Hand for Cathedral Ceremony

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) and Miss Jean Fraser Kerr, onetime aide in his office, passed through a tumultous surging crowd today to marry in St. Matthew's Roman Catholic Cathedral.

Hundreds of uninvited gathered long before the 11 a.m. EST hour of the ceremony to gape at arriving dignitaries. Police estimated 3,500 were around the cathedral.

There was a great burst of applause when McCarthy drove up. When his bride arrived, there were shouts of "Hi, Jeanie" and more applause.

The guest list for the ceremony was long and imposing. There were 200 guests from McCarthy's home state of Wisconsin.

Vice President and Mrs. Nixon, Cabinet officers and their wives, Congress members and just plain friends were among the others invited.

Jack Dempsey, the onetime heavyweight champion, was there.

Three presdential aides, Sherman Adams, Wilton Persons, and Jack Martin came from the White House.

President and Mrs. Eisenhower sent regrets.

Miss Kerr, a native of Washing-

Anna Fairchild Elected Queen At High School

First homecoming queen for Marion's new Harding High School will be Anna Fairchild, senior at the high school and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Fairchild of near Marion.

Miss Fairchild was chosen by the entire student body in the Monday election from a total of five finalists. The other four candidates, Phyllis Albert, Rosemary Baxter, Sherry Caris and Carolyn Jones, will serve as attendants during the homecoming festivities when Harding meets Columbus Central Oct. 16.

Election of the 1953 queen began last week when seniors voted for 10 of the 22 candidates. The ten candidates were introduced at Friday's assembly and the final election took place yesterday.

The annual election of the homecoming queen is a project of the Student Council. Decoration and program committees will be appointed soon by Council president, Gilbert Herr, and plans for the annual homecoming festivities will get under way.

The 1953 queen is a member of the senior choir and is a senior representative on the Student Council. She is president of the Prospect Street Methodist Church MYF, district president of the Tri-Hi-Y, member of the Tri-Hi-Y, and is a Junior Altrusa Club representative.

100-House Development Planned Just East of City

Plans to construct a 100-home subdivision on the east edge of Marion south of E. Center St. were announced today by Dennis L. Trachsel, president and owner of the General Contracting Co.

An estimated $1,200,000 will be needed to complete construction of all the homes on the 30 acre tract of land, Trachsel said. Presently eight homes are nearing completion on the site, called Eastview Acres, and 10 more are to be started soon, he added. "An "open house" program is planned at the site Oct. 3.

THE HOMES now under construction are all located on the east side of a street to be called Sara Ave which extends south from E. Center St. opposite Garfield Park to the building site The subdivision itself is located about a block south of E. Center St. south of what would be E. Church St. if it were extended east of Kensington Ave The only access road to the building site at present is Sara Ave.

Plans call for the construction of four streets in the project with all to be provided with FHA approved curbs and gutters, storm water sewers, and paved surfaces, Trachsel said. Three of these streets will run north and south and in addition to Sara Ave. are to be called Peterson St. and Dennis Ave. The fourth will run east and west at the south end of the project and will be called Trachsel Ave.

APPROXIMATELY 25 houses are to be erected on each of the streets with about one-fourth acre of land contained in each lot, according to Trachsel. Average lot will be 60-feet wide by 160-feet long and each house will have city water, gas, and storm sewers, he said. Each of the streets will be 26 feet wide.

Sanitary sewage will be disposed of through septic tanks. Waste water from these tanks is carried off through a seperate sewage system which drains into Gravel Creek, which in turn empties into the Whetstone River. There is no connection to the city sewage disposal system.

The General Contracting Co. has invested $150,000 in the sewer.

Louisville C46 Crash Kills 22 Puerto Ricans

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A chartered airliner nearing the end of its journey with a load of Puerto Rican soldiers crashed late yesterday at Louisville's Standiford Field killing 22 of the 41 persons aboard.

The survivors were reported in critical condition at three hospitals.

The twin-engine C46, one of five chartered by the Army to transfer 140 soldiers from Camp Kilmer, N. J. to Ft. Knox, Ky., nearly touched ground when undetermined trouble developed.

After pulling up to about 400 feet, the liner nosed down and crashed with a terrific impact. Bodies were scattered as far as 100 feet. Some were decapitated.

Only the stewardess among the crew of three survived. Resort Airlines of Miami, Fla., operator of the flight, identified her as Dorothy Jean Bush, 32, of Miami.

The pilot, Capt. Whorton Moller, 33, and his assistant, Co-Capt. John DeWitt Pickel, 31, both of San Antonio, Tex., were dead when ambulances arrived.

The status of the soldiers was not clarified immediately since their records went with them on the transfer.

Authorities at Camp Kilmer said they were among a group of Puerto Ricans processed from overseas for reassignment and that quite likely some of them saw combat service in Korea.

Lt. Col. Roscoe Buckles, staff duty officer at Ft. Knox, said the men had been taken to Camp Kilmer from Puerto Rico.

None of the survivors could tell what happened.

Group Takes Oath

Hoover Heads Stronger Government Commission

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new Hoover government reorganization commission, patterned after the earlier one but with wider powers, beoath - taking ceremonies at the White House.

The 12-member group headed by former President Herbert Hoover has seven Republicans and five Democratic members and half a million dollars to look for further economies in a government now costing about 70 billions a year.

The new commission has a duty not held by the earlier one, which wound up its work nearly four years ago. Besides inquiring into how efficiently a government activity is performed, it has authority to study whether the activity should be performed by the federal government at all.

The law creating the new commission directed it to submit its final report not later than May 31, 1955. Presumably preliminary reports will be submitted before that time.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark)., a member of the old commission and the new one, said in an interview he intends to urge the commission not only to make reorganization recommendations but to draft legislation or proposed executive orders to submit with its report.

"In the past there have been different interpretations of the commission's recommendation," he said. "If the commission

Truman Peace Formula: Build Up, Then Negotiate

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman says the United States must build "a really strong defense" and, from a position of strength, show willingness to negotiate 'in all sincerity" for a solution of its differences with the Soviet bloc.

Truman, urging nonpartisan support for this program, says the negotiations should be "in firm agreement with our allies and from a position of united strength."

He urged a battle for freedoms both at home and abroad in an address last night at a dinner of the Four Freedoms Foundation at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. Truman received the foundation's fifth annual Four Freedoms Award.

Fourteen hundred persons attended the dinner of the foundation, established to work for the freedoms defined by the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1941. These are freedom of speech, freedom of religion, freedom from want and freedom from fear. An award plaque cited Truman for "inspiring leadership in the cause of the four freedoms at home and abroad and his valiant and unyielding struggle in the cause of civil rights."

In calling for a fight for freedoms, Truman said: "All across our country there are people at work, stirring up suspicion of the United Nations, of our allies, of our own public servants, of our fellow citizens. All across our country there are zealots who are clamoring for somebody's head.

Cure for 'Washingtonitis'

U.S. Capital's Residents Need Dose of Humility

By DON WHITEHEAD
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP)—There isn't so much wrong with our town here on the Potomac that couldn't be cured by an occasional dose of humility.

There is a peculiar affliction that can be diagnosed as "Washingtonitis"—or the delusion that here is the dog and the rest of the country (sometimes the world) is a tail hooked on behind. And tails were made to be wagged.

It's an attitude spawned by supercharged politics, without any relationship to which party is in power. Its victims may be politicians, newsmen, government employes, society leaders or just anybody that happens to call Washington home.

The only known cure is the humility that comes from (A) getting licked at the polls in an election, or (B) getting out of town occasionally to discover how the rest of the world lives and thinks.

Oddly enough, out beyond the political mists and fogs, out where the taxes are harvested, the traveler may find that Washington is an important place—but after all it's only a part of these United States.

On a recent trip into Ohio, I asked a friend what the political sentiment was since the change of administration last January. He is a Republican.

He said: "We've been a little disappointed that the administration hasn't moved faster than it has. But then I suppose you couldn't expect the Republicans to turn things upside down overnight after 20 years of Democratic rule. We're sort of reserving judgment for the time being.

"Actually, I think people are a lot more concerned about what is going to happen to business than they are about politics."

A little more inquiry developed that the business barometer at present is drawing more attention than the political barometer. In other words, the Washington dog had better watch its own tail or it might get its brains shaken out.

But "Washingtonitis" can break out in various forms and there's no way to predict when or where.

At a recent cocktail party, a woman asked a visitor how long he had been in town. He told her two weeks and that already he was sort of homesick for the Far West.

"Really," she said, "how quaint. I couldn't imagine anyone wanting to leave a place as exciting and alive as Washington. I couldn't bear to be away from the center of things where the decisions are made. But you can't understand, I suppose, unless you've lived here as long as I and have become a part of it."

The visitor was a little vague about sticking around another 15 years or so to get onto the swing of things. He mumbled that he was fairly happy where he was.

Later he said: "I don't discount the influence Washington has on the rest of the world, but have these people forgotten the influence which the rest of the world has on Washington? Just who is influencing whom?"

It was a fair question.

Those who fall prey to "Washingtonitis" have their opposites abroad in those Americans who have become professional expatriates. They are the ones who cling to their citizenship and passports for dear life—while belittling everything American from food to manners. And they do it with an air of apology.

Both types are annoying. But don't let "Washingtonitis" scare you away from our town. It isn't contagious and it's fairly safe to bet you won't be bothered by the expatriates.

Besides, any trip is worthwhile if it makes you appreciate home more.

West Clamps Down on War Goods to Reds

But Nonstrategic Shipments Are Up, Stassen Report Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Foreign Operations Chief Harold E. Stassen reports the West is clamping down on war goods shipments to Iron Curtain countries but is boosting its nonstrategic trade with the Reds.

In a 96-page report to Congress yesterday, he estimated that free world shipments to Red China of nonstrategic goods—that is, those not aiding her war potential—would total 375 million dollars this year. He weighed this against a 257 million dollar total last year.

But he emphasized:

"The strategic embargo was being increased in the first half of 1953, not relaxed. The increase was in nonstrategic goods.

"The main reason for it seems to be the changed attitude of the Chinese Communists, who had dropped their reluctance to deal with the West and were placing more and bigger orders for the kind of goods that the free governments would have been willing to ship all along".

Stassen's report covered global enforcement of strategic trade controls during the first half of the year under the Mutual Defense Assistance Control Act (the Battle Act).

It made clear that, although the United States bars all U. S. trade with Communist China, it does not object to nonstrategic trade with the Chinese Reds on the part of its allies.

In a letter accompanying the report, Stassen struck out at critics of this policy. He branded as "completely untrue" any contentions that America's allies are sending military supplies to the Soviet bloc.

"To try to force a stoppage of all East-West commerce would be precisely the wrong way to assure peace in the world," he said.

Dog Catcher Leads Tough Life, Judge Hears in Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP) — Dog Catcher Edgar T. Benton had just captured a little black dog here yesterday when he was pulled out of his truck and assaulted by Edward Simpson Sr.

Simpson, 25-year-old Negro, told Magistrate William F. Laukaitis he had lost his head in the excitement. He was fined $10 for assault and $10 for interfering with Benton "in the performance of his duties."

Benton, who was on the ground when rescued by police, told the magistrate:

"This was nothing, Your Honor, compared with what we have to put up with from the women. Some of them come after us with brooms."

Correspondent Reviews Beria Rumors

Fate of Soviet Leader Is Still a Mystery

Editor's note—Tom Whitney has just returned after nine years in Moscow, six of them as a member of the Associated Press staff there. Now a member of AP's London staff, he takes an evaluating look at the recent rumors that ex-Soviet Police Chief L. P. Beria might have escaped from Russia, and also surveys other possibilities of Beria's fate.)

By TOM WHITNEY

LONDON (AP)—Three months ago Soviet Police Chief Lavrenty P. Beria was arrested in Moscow — and his sentence hasn't been announced yet.

The Soviet government promised a trial and turned the case over to the Soviet Supreme Court. But the trial hasn't materialized, or at any rate nothing has been made public about it.

It could be that Beria is still being worked over to bring him to the point of an abject confession of treason.

It could be that the Soviet government is still looking around for others to be implicated with him.

It's also possible the Soviet government has not yet made up its mind whether it wants to put on a big Beria show trial or not.

And it could also be that Beria is dead.

In the non-Communist world rumors are circulating that Beria has escaped.

These rumors have to be evaluated against the indubitable fact that if Beria was taken alive by Premier Georgi Malenkov's government, he then certainly became the most carefully guarded human on earth. Every one of his jailers would answer with his life.

Beria's arrest was announced July 10 But it is known it actually took place June 26. The official decrees removing him from his posts as minister of internal affairs and first deputy premier were dated as of that day.

And that is the day that Soviet army tank columns maneuvered in Moscow, past the new American Embassy and past Beria's official residence a few hundred yards away. These tank movements clearly were part of "operation Beria."

There's never been any proof or even any Soviet government statement that Beria is alive.

He is one man who might have had some warning about his coming arrest. He might have prepared himself for this eventuality as did German Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler—with poison. Or his captors might have shot him on the spot.

But it is a little more probable that Beria was captured alive.

If so, he perhaps presents a particular problem to the Soviet "confession" extraction experts. Beria is tough. He knows their tricks and devices. It could also be that he knows those tricks so well, he won't resist. Even in the strongest of cases, however, it seems to take a long time for the Communists to get anyone absolutely ready for a show trial.

If Beria is to be shown at a trial, then it seems likely others will stand trial with him as co-conspirators.

Possibly the purge in Soviet Georgia fits in with this. Old cronies of Beria including Premier Valerian Bakradze, whom Beria put into power in April in his home republic, and at least four other influential members of the government were fired—and probably arrested—this last week on orders from Moscow.

Beria's trial could start tomorrow for all the outside world knows of what goes on inside the top Soviet government circles.

But there's no certainty that there ever will be a big Beria trial at all.

In July for about five days after the announcement of his arrest, the Beria denunciation campaign filled the pages of the central Moscow press. But then it was abruptly turned off like a faucet, undoubtedly on government orders.

Since then, the Kremlin policy has been to mention Beria as little as possible. It would seem the government itself just doesn't know what to do with Lavrenty Beria?

Three Cattle Sales Planned During October

Cattle buyers will have an opportunity to visit Marion County for their purchases three times in October.

First sale will be the Marion Junior Steer Show and Sale at the stockyards of the Marion Producers Livestock Cooperative Oct. 9.

On Oct. 24, the first annual Marion District Shorthorn Breeders Sale will be held at the county fairgrounds. This event is expected to draw from 200 to 400 persons. Almost all animals sold in the sale will be purebred shorthorns.

They will be sold to farmers for breeding purposes. Some steers, though, will be sold to 4-H and FFA members for raising as part of their club projects.

Three days later, a dispersal sale of the Jersey cattle on the W. H. Schwaderer and Dr. J. A. McNamara farm will be sold to the general public. The farm is located about six miles south of Marion on County Road 150.

Elwood Parrott of the county agricultural extension service office estimates that between 40 and 50 head of cattle will be offered at this event. About 23 head are milking Jerseys.

Out of Sight

Public authorities handling behind-scenes details of a murder inquiry in Upper Sandusky have been astonished at the apparent number of girls and women who are missing from their homes.

During the days while authorities were trying to establish the identity of the body of a young woman found in their area, they received more than half a hundred inquiries from relatives and friends trying to locate other girls and women whose whereabouts were unknown.

Since these inquiries came from a relatively small area of the United States, it may be assumed that many hundreds of persons are missing, though most of them never have been reported to any public authority.

The sociological source of this problem which has come to attention accidentally through the process of identifying the body of one murder victim is apparently the restlessness of large numbers of girls and women. In total, they may be no more numerous than restless boys and men, but the boys and men find it harder to drop out of sight because of selective service regulations and job records.

A Fortune in Respect

When Fred Vinson died, it was evident in what was said about him by people who had been closest to him in Washington, that he was one of the most respected men in the federal government.

This was not just because he was chief justice of the United States. Rather, it was because of something which had caused him to be the natural and undisputed choice for that high office when it fell vacant.

Chief Justice Vinson was a man who accumulated the confidence of his fellow men by his unfailing devotion to their best interests.

He had done this in many public positions during a period of history which is not likely to be remembered for such qualities as flawless service to the best interests of mankind.

When Chief Justice Vinson's estate was divided up a few days ago, there was no more than token value to be divided among his heirs. He had accumulated no money, only respect.

The Next 50 Years

One of the noteworthy things about baseball which becomes even more noticeable during the World Series than it is during the season is its popularity with women.

When the first series was played in 1903, women spectators were scarcer than ballplayers with names like Rizzuto. Baseball had become more respectable than prizefighting but it was to be many more years before small boys learned the batting order of their favorite team at their mothers' knees.

Today, millions of women are enthusiastic baseball fans. They are enthusiastic football fans. They sit at ringside for the big prizefights and follow the bruising action via television at parlorside.

Women even play baseball, themselves, though men can be depended on to resist their encroachment in the established leagues. And women have taken up professional wrestling, tournament golf, competitive tennis, channel-swimming and hunting.

Anyone want to bet that in another 50 years there won't be a woman baseball player in the World Series? She may not be with the Yankees but with whatever team will be meeting the Yankees in 2003.

Why Not an Eight-Hour Week?

Both the AFL and CIO will agitate for shorter work weeks now that overtime is ceasing to be a major element of take-home pay.

They could do nothing while a 40-hour week was too short.

The AFL convention adopted a resolution at St. Louis for a 35-hour week.

Some 20 years ago and again after World War II was over, there was talk of a 30-hour week. What grew out of the talk that began 20 years ago was a 40-hour week. What grew out of talk after World War II was a firm resolve on the part of employers not to get caught twice in the same trap.

The 40-hour week carried over into wartime and continued after the war was over was a prime source of price inflation. What was intended to be a device in depression days for spreading work became a device in wartime for spreading overtime pay rates.

At the peak of war production in 1944, the average work week soared to 45.6 hours—and that only suggested what happened in industries operating under the greatest pressure for production at any cost. An artificially limited work week in wartime inflicted a tremendous penalty on the national economy merely because a 40-hour limit had been established when jobs were scarce during the depression.

A 30-hour week would compound this mischief. If the aim is to build wage and price inflation into the economic structure, there had better be an 8-hour week, with premium rates for overtime. Any work-week limitation which cannot be lifted when the country goes to war and must fight for its survival is absurd.

Readjustment Healthy

By David Lawrence

Gradual Changes Now Can Avert Recession

Economic historians, looking back on the year 1953, will probably call it the beginning of a period of "readjustment." The word "recession" doesn't accurately describe what has happened already nor what is likely to happen in the coming months.

The change going on at present—indeed, it began months ago—is not general as happens in a "recession" when nearly every industry is affected and when it is possible to measure declines on a broad percentage basis.

There are, for example, industries — like textiles — which have already gone through their painful period of readjustment and emerged on the upward side.

The chances are the readjustment will affect different industries at different times—not all of them at the same time.

This particular change-over—if it really has a parallel at all—resembles more closely than anything else the readjustment that showed up early in 1921 and took about 18 months to complete. It was the first economic readjustment of major importance following the close of World War I.

It looks now as if 1953, for instance, based on total business activity, will turn out to be the highest year in our history, and the estimates are that the year 1954 will come out as the second best year.

This means that 1954 will be better than 1951 or 1952—both of which were high years. At the bottom of the decline toward the end of 1954, it is expected that business activity may touch the 1952 level.

The decline in total business activity as between this year and next is expected to be around 9 per cent. Measured by the output of industry alone, there will be a smaller dip than any previous downward curve — smaller even than the turndown in 1949.

Perhaps the best illustration of this point is a story told by Benjamin Fairless, president of the U.S. Steel Corp., in a speech before the Economic Club of Detroit a week ago.

He told of a restaurant owner who was complaining that business had fallen off whereupon the customer remarked that he noticed that a dozen or more people were being turned away that very noon hour. To this the restaurant proprietor replied: "Oh, but a year ago I was turning away three times that many."

Plainly the backlog of orders in many an industry is down but this is only one of the many signs that demand and supply are adjusting themselves to normal procedures.

As long as prices are going up and there's a chance of shortages due to government buying in a war emergency, the temptation of the manufacturer is to stock up his inventory and tie up cash that should be used in other directions or conserved.

The other extreme happens too, as inventories tend to be reduced too much after supply is abundant. Then plant strikes or transportation tie-ups or international emergencies make the buyer wish he had kept up his inventories.

During a period of "readjustment" resourcefulness is stimulated and efficiency on the cost side becomes imperative. Inducements begin to be made by sellers to bring about an increased volume of sales for products now in full supply.

An example is the trend in the steel industry — just now beginning — toward the absorption of some freight delivery charges at certain mills so as to meet competition. This reduces the net cost to fabricators without distrubing the general price structure but it is a significant form of inducement to increase sales.

There can be no doubt that a peak has been reached in the operation of many phases of our national economy. Thus wage levels have for a time at least hit the top.

Labor - union strategists now will think more about the possible effects of unemployment on their members than about more wage boosts which tend to force manufacturing costs so high as to cause demand to fall off still more. This would mean reduced production and employment because of a lessened demand caused by price resistance.

At the present time the unemployment figure for the nation, relatively speaking, is not high at all though there are some spots slightly above the average. Where obsolete plants are being abandoned or overtime is being eliminated the readjustment is already in full swing.

Many workers have so accustomed themselves to the idea that their time-and-a-half pay for overtime work is permanent that they will have to adjust their household spending accordingly. Loss only of overtime compensation, however, is a far cry from loss of wages in total unemployment.

Incidentally, what might have been a severe cut in purchasing power nationally due to loss of overtime pay has been offset to some extent by the steady increases in hourly rates for straight time in recent months.

Appraisals of the business situation are made more difficult in the face of uncertainties whether artificially created or spontaneously occurring.

The administration has underestimated the effects of its own vacillation in policies as a psychological factor in business conditions especially in the matter of business planning on future tax rates.

The readjustment process under way now may take another year to complete. It is quite possible that the recent decline on the stock market is more of a reflection of what has been happening inside business for several months now—and only lately brought into perspective — than an augury of what is going to happen.

The "readjustment" period, as a whole, is a healthy one and it will tend to avoid and prevent a general recession.

Let the Leaves Lie

By TRUMAN TWILL

The only helpful household hint this department offers at this time of the year is about leaves.

Reports from here and there reflect considerable progress in this matter since the hint was first passed along as a gesture of good will 10 years ago.

Fewer people are seen raking leaves than used to be seen at this time of the year. The few who still rake them do not do it so often.

The hint is that an unraked leaf will nearly always get lost if it is given enough time and an occasional stirring up with a blunt instrument.

This semi - important discovery was made a long time ago after years of involuntary servitude with wooden-toothed rake during leaf season.

As soon as emancipation set it, the rake was thrown away. No substitute equipment ever was purchased. Each year by Christmas, thereafter, all the leaves that weren't raked had disappeared.

Occasionally, an eddy of leaves which had stuck together during a rainstorm would have to be stirred up and helped along the way. But this was a minor chore requiring only 10 minutes a year, instead of 10 hours of tidying up with a rake and wheelbarrow.

Furthermore, none of the valuable fertilizing ingredients of the leaves were burned up in bonfires. All these ingredients, along with the humus contained in the leaves, were carried along by the fall and winter winds to some spot of future usefulness.

Not everybody lives where the wind can get a sufficiently hard crack at the leaves to handle this job properly.

But certainly more than half of all people who rake leaves do live in such places if they will give the wind a chance.

This is the only household hint available here at this time and is repeated this year in deference to all persons opposed to the destruction of leaves which is what happens to most leaves that are raked up.

Besides conservationists, other persons opposed to the destruction of leaves are as follows:

Sentimentalists. The odor of burning leaves in the fall makes them feel sad and wistful, because they remember the odor of burning leaves from all the previous falls that have fallen.

Firemen. They take a dim view of people who set fires at random within their jurisdiction, especially when there is danger of burning down nearby property.

Neighbors. One man's leaf smoke may be another man's sneezing attack.

If you feel you must rake something in the fall, rake the handbills out of the shrubery by the front door. These will not blow away. They will just lie there if ignored. They are worthless both as mulch and humus.

But never rake a leaf until it has been given a chance to blow away.

An unraked leaf never hurt anybody.

Fallacy in Social Security Planning

By Raymond Moley

Many people have pointed out the fallacy in the Social Security trust funds and the wisdom of adopting a "pay-as-you-owe" policy. But never has the case been so convincingly made as in a recent article in the New York Journal of Commerce by Dr. Julius Hirsch.

Hirsch is an economist who once held high office in the pre-Hitler Bruening government in Germany. He has lived here since 1940 and has done noteworthy work as an economic consultant.

His proposal, if adopted, would get at one stroke redeem the national debt from $272,600,000,000 to $235 billion.

This would eliminate the whole question of raising the debt ceiling of $75 billion, now established by act of Congress.

The trust funds involved are these: "Old Age and Survivors' Insurance," $19 billion, "Civil Service Retirement and Disability," $5,700,000,000; "Railroad Retirement," $3,300,000,000 billion, and "Unemployment," $9,600,000,000.

These funds, from the standpoint of the agency that must pay obligations for them—and that is the government—are not in the savings bank, like an individual's money.

They cannot be spent, because they are not money. They are debts.

Before a dollar is paid to a beneficiary, a bond must be paid off from tax money. In short, that dollar must be secured not from the trust fund, but from some outside source.

The analogy of a government trust fund and an insurance company's reserve is entirely false. A bond held by an insurance company is an asset, a thing of value. A government bond held by the government is an obligation, a minus quantity.

The dollar you paid for "Social Security" last year is not in Uncle Sam's till in safekeeping for you. It has been spent for guns or to feed a family in Pakistan, or to keep a military attache in the Paris Embassy well clad for tomorrow's cocktail party.

When you call for it at the age of 65, the government will have to get it from a lot of somebodies through taxes, and you will be one of the somebodies.

The Hirsch suggestion would wipe out all this nonsense and make the system pay as it owes.

All that the trust fund represents to you is a promise to pay.

That promise to pay would be just as valid if it were made directly by act of Congress and if the money were paid out of current income.

It would be explicit, while the present obligation is implicit in the trust fund.

Of course, this change would not create money to run the government. Just as much would be needed as before, and it would have to be raised by some sort of taxation.

But this change would eliminate the rigamarole of indirection now existing and serve notice on everyone that they are paying and tell them what they are paying for.

Whether individuals should still make contributions should be decided on the basis of broad principle.

Should people be compelled by government to save? Maybe so. Maybe not.

I am inclined toward the side of liberty. People should be induced to save, not forced by the power of the state.

Private Secret Agent

By EDWARD NELLOR

Col. Ulius ("Pete") Amoss is as much a mystery to U.S. Intelligence officials as the current whereabouts of Lavrenti P. Beria, deposed Soviet secret police boss.

Amoss, publisher of a Baltimore monthly intelligence digest, is a former office of strategic services sleuth who emerges from behind the scenes every time a crack appears in the Iron Curtain.

Just prior to the recent puzzling reports that Beria had escaped from his Kremlin captives, Amoss revealed a number of details concerning efforts to bring atomic data from behind the Iron Curtain. He did not mention Beria, though published reports now link him with the purported successful snatch of Beria and some of his comrades from Kremlin clutches.

Amoss, in appearance, resembles a well-tailored college professor, bubbling with nervous energy, yet cautious in what he says. He first came into prominence in taking credit for the escape of a Polish pilot who fled in a Soviet MIG and is now in the U.S.

The pilot has since denied that any Americans helped him flee but Amoss dismisses this with the curt statement that the Pole doesn't know what he is talking about."

Amoss operates from his home on Gibson Island, near Washington. He speaks constantly of his "operators," but his cautious approach to the subject discourages questions concerning their identity. He visited the Iron Curtain countries recently, according to his own account, and there made contact with members of "the underground."

Recently Amoss was involved in a plan to pull an entire squadron of MIG fighters out of Russia, including a high Soviet general who also is a pilot.

The departure of Beria from Moscow, if he has fled, is purported to have cost $50,000. Amoss, in the interview, stated frankly that his biggest problem is obtaining funds for paying off cash-hungry Russians who, he says, can deliver humans, as well as documents, to Allied hands if the price is right.

Amoss has no standing with official U.S. intelligence agencies. This is not meant to imply that they discount his activities entirely, but simply that he is not on a government Intelligence Service pay roll.

He admits that the Central Intelligence Agency is outside his ken, though he stated that he has great admiration for Allen W. Dulles, CIA director, who worked with Amoss in the OSS during the war.

Lesser officials of CIA have no use for him, Amoss admits.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation, which is not concerned directly with foreign intelligence, nevertheless is interested in any intelligence that could lead to underground Soviet agents in the U.S. Amoss is largely unknown to the FBI officials, nor does he have official contact with the State Department, which has its own foreign intelligence net.

Accidental Hay Market

SEDALIA, Mo. (AP)—R. E. Callen discovered an eager market for his hay the hard way. His truck, piled high with the stuff and enroute to another county, cracked an axle and toppled over a few miles north of this Pettis County seat.

Almost immediately hay-hungry farmers began converging on the trucker, who escaped injury. Before either the highway patrol or a wrecker arrived, Callen had sold his load.

"I didn't know Pettis County needs hay so badly," he said. "I had several offers almost before the truck stopped rolling on its side."

Horse Collects Wolves

CLINTON, Mo. (AP)—A dog-hating horse that can't tell a hound from a wolf earned some satisfaction for itself and $5 for its owner.

J. H. Mays, a farmer in this vicinity, said the nag chases any dogs that venture on the pasture. Recently one did venture—chasing a young wolf. The horse took out after both of them.

It ended, Mays said, with the horse trampling the wolf to death and then chasing the dog from the pasture. "A grandstand play if ever I saw one," the farmer said. "And besides, I got the five-buck wolf bounty out of it."

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Real News Newsreel

The payment of $100,000 for delivery of a Russian MIG marks the advent of a "cold (cash) war"... One hundred thousand American dollars is a lot of money, and there are plenty of men behind the Iron Curtain who would try to fly a Russian battleship over for that much... In fact Elmer Twitchell insists he got a cable from a Russian yesterday reading, "How much am I offered for a Soviet super submarine?"

-:-

The cloak and dagger mood enveloping the story that Lavrenti Beria may "be flown" to our side continues. It is just possible, we think, that those behind the story are waiting for color-television.

So far as is known no offer of 100 grand has been made to Beria, but for $150,000 we believe there are people who would produce Stalin. Incidentally what is today's bid asked for delivering Hitler?

The idea has penetrated the world series... Chuck Dressen has offered $100,000 for the first man to fly Johnny Mize's bat to the Brooklyn management. He will pay the money even if the bat turns out to be Woodling's. There is a report that a fellow who has been reading the Beria whodunit has wired the Yanks that he can produce Babe Ruth.

A lover of trotting meets since our boyhood at Lew Fisk's Branford Driving Park back home, and a columnist who predicted, from Goshen years ago, that the sport would one day go big in the cities, we are saddened by the picture of this rural sport contaminated by city slickers, back-alley characters, racketeers, grafters and killers. It is tough to know though the Yonker's track scandal in New York, that Dave Harum has been driving to the post through a lane of gun-toters and mobsters, "Vigilance" has been an also-ran, "Law & Order" has been running last and "Operational Integrity" has been a scratch, it appears. (The sulky with the racket on top, as it were.) The plain fact is that a notoriously tough union leader was forcing the track to employ crooks and convicts... But our hunch is that if Governor Dewey's probe goes to the bottom of things it will find that politicians, scores of them, were in this man's corner and that they never lifted a finger to make it easier for the management to take a firm stand for 100 per cent honesty.

"Mr. and Mrs. Abernathy stated at Chapel Hill: We feel that in our small way we have played a part in resisting the climate of hysteria which the Senate investigating committee are fostering.'"—News item. Well, the full report of the Senate hearing shows that although there was testimony that the Communists had a secret printing press in the rear of the Abernathy store in which Communist literature was printed, the Abernathys refused to deny or affirm it or to say whether they were not or had been members of the Communist party.

The official text of their "help in a small way" reads:

Q — When you and your husband operated this bookshop did you have any printing presses there?

Mrs. Abernathy — I decline to answer on the basis of my privilege against self-incrimination.

Q — Have you ever denied being a member of the Communist party?

Mrs. Abernathy — I decline to answer.

And from the examination of her husband:

Q — Did you engage in any espionage while in the U. S. Army?

A — I refuse to answer.

Q — Have you ever denied under oath that you are a member of the Communist party?

A — I refuse to answer on the ground that the answer I might give might incriminate me.

Executives Group Opens Season

America's Future Rests With Youths, Club Told

Guest speaker Mrs Paul Whitney told Marion Executives Club members that America's future rests in its youth at their first meeting of the 1953-54 season held Saturday night at the Harding Hotel

Speaking on the topic, "Is American Schooling Overdone" Mrs. Whitney answered that education in this country has only begun. She added that if we are to be strong enough to withstand the impact of communism we must place more value in our youth.

ORIGINALLY from Milwaukee, Mrs Whitney was director of an experimental playground in the slums there after which she spent 12 years as youth counselor in Syracuse, N. Y. high schools. She is also a former teacher at Vassar and was once chairman of the Juvenile Protection and Youth Service of the New York State Congress of Parents and Teachers. She is a graduate of Wisconsin University and has a master's degree from Syracuse University.

Introduced by a long - time friend, Grant Hinkamp of 481 Delaware Ave, she began her talk with a story of meeting a missionary school teacher just returned from Red China. She said the teacher told her that the Communists in China pay little attention to the older people but concentrate their efforts on the youth In two years they placed the young people completely under Red control. Because of this, the missionary told Mrs. Whitney, she felt there is no hope for the Chinese Nationalists to regain control of their nation

POINTING OUT that noted historians have written that leading civilizations have always been broken from without, she said we must strengthen our youth in the American ideal if we are to maintain our position of world leadership.

With some 34 million children in our schools today, she said they leave the schools after ten years without actually realizing what the great American standard of living is, that they cannot argue logically and convincingly for the American way of life

Because schools are the only social institution where all children may be contacted, it is there the strengthening must begin, she warned. One of our biggest needs is to work with each child individually, she said.

TO DO THIS means the addition of home counselors in our school systems, giving both the brilliant and the slow child special attention, and decreasing the size of classes.

Specially trained counselors are needed, she said, because it has been found that most mental illnesses start early in life and many persons could be saved with proper attention in the first few school years She noted that for every boy or girl who enters college there is another who enters a mental institution.

This points up the need for preventive psychiatry in much the same manner as we have preventive medicine, she said.

Because all this means the expenditure of more money for education, she said the question is always asked where the money is coming from The money is available, she said, and pointed out that last year $7 billion was spent for education while $9 billion was spent for alcoholic beverages.

DURING A QUESTION and answer period, Clark Fouts of 484 Cherry St., principal of Eber Baker Junior High, asked how a child guidance program might be set up in Marion schools. Mrs Whitney answered that such a program should be established on the elementary level. Included in the program should be vocational, life, teacher, and parent guidance plans, she said.

Dr. Floyd Yeager, president of the club, complimented the Marion Board of Education on its work in bringing new schools to Marion but said he felt local education has much further to go to meet all the needs of Marion youth.

He announced the next club meeting will be Oct 31 and appointed a nominating committee to select candidates for election to the board of trustees at that meeting. Appointed to the nominating committee were Paul Williams, chairman, Virgil Dye, and Henry Mickley Four to six candidates selected by the committee will be up for election to replace board members whose terms expire at the end of this year.

Woman Deaf To Plea, Leaps From Building

NEW YORK (AP)—Ignoring pleas not to jump, a middle-aged woman hurled 13 stories to death Monday from a fashionable midtown apartment house in a suicide of bizarre detail.

The unidentified woman had entered the building a short time before and asked the elevator operator to take her to the 15th, or top, floor. A new employe, the man told police later he assumed she was a tenant.

As the car started up, she said: "Never mind. Make it the 12th"

Fifteen minutes later the attendant received a call from a resident on the 11th floor that someone was knocking at his door. The operator and a porter investigated, found no one But on a nearby stairway they found fire hose had been taken down from a wall bracket On the floor was blood

The men followed a trail of blood to the roof There it ended After looking about, the two returned to the lobby.

Next to be involved in the drama was Jacob Sackser, a resident on the 14th floor. He told police he was awakened by the sound of footsteps outside his living room window. He looked and saw the woman climbing over a guard rail along a building ledge.

Quickly he opened the window, called: "What are you doing? are you going to jump?"

"Yes," Sackser told police she replied. "Would you like to push me?"

After urging her for several minutes to enter the apartment, Sackser went to the telephone As he did he tripped over a lamp wire and fell

The woman on the ledge called "Did you hurt yourself?"

Sackser said he hadn't, again pleaded with her. Then he telephoned the lobby attendant. Seconds after the man reached the apartment, police said, the woman loosed her grip, cried out "so long, mister," and fell.

Ohio Supreme Court Facing Heavy Docket

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's Supreme Court returns from its summer recess today to face a heavy docket of cases.

The seven-member court headed by Chief Justice Carl V Weygandt of Lakewood, will devote the first eight days to hearings on applications, to consider appeals from lower court decisions

General docket hearings on appeal cases already admitted will begin Oct 13

One of today's hearings is on a request to assess $23,609 against the Ohio Turnpike Commission for printing voluminous testimony and exhibits in the asphalt-cement paving suit

The commission won a court test of its right to pave the 241-mile northern Ohio toll road with cement only. Richard H. Shafer, president of the Ohio Road Improvement Co., Columbus, had sought to require alternate bids on asphalt as well as cement paving.

Ordinarily the loser pays printing costs in such cases. But Robert D. Hamilton, Shafer's counsel, contended the commission went to unnecessary expense in the asphalt-cement case Hamilton said the commission therefore should foot the printing bill.

The court on Wednesday will hear the request of Mrs. Dovey Blanche Dean, 54-year-old poison slayer, to consider her attempt to escape execution for killing her husband, Hawkins, 68. Mrs. Dean appealed from her first degree murder conviction in Clermont County for the Dec. 19, 1952, slaying

On Thursday, the court will hear the request of Frank Hashmall, self-identified Communist, to consider his appeal from an Akron conviction on a charge of signing a fake name to an auto-license application. Hashmall is serving a 1-10 year sentence in Ohio Penitentiary.

Foreman Buys Scherff Store

Associate Purchases Furniture Business

Harry C. Scherff, one of Marion's oldest active merchants, has retired from business and sold his interest in the Wayside Furniture Store at 985 S. Prospect St to Dwight F Foreman, it was announced today.

Foreman has been associated with Scherff since 1929

Scherff entered the furniture business in 1913 as manager of the H L. Lister Co. in the building now occupied by the Van Atta Supply Co at 375 W Center St

The name of the company was changed to the H. C. Scherff Furniture Co two years later when it moved to 381 W Center St in the building now housing the Fulfillment Corp In the fall of 1947 the company moved to its present location just south of Marion on Route 4

Foreman joined the company as a salesman in 1929 For six years he served as manager of Scherff's Upper Sandusky branch store Foreman was elected secretary and treasurer of the company in 1943 and in 1952 he assumed the position of general manager

New officers in the company since the change in ownership are Foreman, president and general manager; David Foreman, vice president, and Mrs Sylvia Foreman, secretary and treasurer.

Name of the store will be changed to Foreman's Wayside Furniture Store

City Council

rchase of a site for the Jefferson St pumping station resulted from an offer to sell a 35-foot wide by 50-foot long piece of land on Jefferson St. to the city for $500 The offer was made to Council by Marion County Engineer Reed Ours on behalf of his mother, Mrs. Fannie V. Ours owner of the property

Councilman Tom Clark, at-large, said he felt this price was out of reason. He also said he felt this was not a large enough piece of property on which to erect the pumping station.

Haldeman asked City Engineer Tom S. Cathers if he felt the land offered would be large enough Cathers answered he felt the pumping station should be located on a larger plot of ground to permit easy access and for possibility of future expansion.

CLARK THEN MOVED that Mrs Ours be offered $250 for the entire lot 50 feet by 125 feet, and if this is not acceptable, the city solicitor start condemnation proceedings to acquire another more desirable lot located at the corner of Jefferson St and E Fairground St.

Clark's motion was unanimously approved and Piacentino was instructed to take necessary steps to acquire one of the properties for the city

Passage of an ordinance authorizing extension of workmen's compensation coverage to auxiliary police and other auxiliary units in the city was quickly adopted.

PIACENTINO SAID the ordinance was presented to Council partly as a result of a change in the state law a year ago allowing cities to provide coverage for auxiliaries and partly because of a recent court case in Columbus The [illegible] widow of a special deputy sheriff there brought suit for compensation after his death The suit was against a deputy sheriff and the ruling was in favor of the widow As a result, commission of deputy sheriffs in many counties in the state, including Marion County, were canceled

The ordinance providing the compensation coverage for Marion auxiliaries was presented to Council to prevent such a suit here against the police or fire chiefs Piacentino said He noted it also protects the city as well

Based on an average auxiliary force in the city of 24 persons the cost of the coverage will be about $48 a year, Piacentino said He pointed out the plan is to provide coverage for all auxiliary personnel.

C of C System Of Bad Check Warnings Used

The alarm system put into effect by police and the Chamber of Commerce to protect merchants against the probability of cashing bad checks was put into use on Monday.

Working on the principle of the once-popular pyramid clubs, the system was set into motion when a man tried to cash a $60 check drawn on a Washington bank at a local filling station.

The filling station operator became suspicious when the man refused to offer any identification. He was described as about 30 years of age, and five feet eight inches tall

The operator called police who alerted the Chamber of Commerce The Chamber of Commerce then made a call to several merchants who in turn each called up three other business places. Within 10 minuted the entire system of 70 merchants was alerted to the presence of the man in the area.

Police today reported no new developments in the case, but said they are investigating the reports

2 Minor Accidents Reported by Police

City police reported two minor accidents today. No accidents were reported by the state highway patrol.

Minor damage to both vehicles resulted from a collision between an automobile and a motorcyle at 130 Park Blvd. at 3.03 p m yesterday. The automobile was driven by James A. Harruff, 53, of near New Bloomington. Charles L. Morgan, 27, of 1025 Bennett St. was the driver of the motorcycle

Cars driven by Marvin Dilkinson, 43, of 571 W. Columbia St, and Richard Daum, 27, of 852 N State St. collided in front of 249 W. Center St. at 4 59 p m yesterday. The accident resulted in minor damage to both cars.

In a story of weekend accidents which appeared in Monday's Star the location of one mishap and address of a motorist involved were incorrect. The address of Harold S. Slauson, 48, is 406 Girard Ave. not 406 S. Grand Ave and the accident occurred across the street from his residence not across the street from 406 S Grand Ave as stated in the story

Church Makes Building Plans

Site Selected, Some Land May Be Sold

Decisions concerning steps in the building program at a recent congregational meeting at Central Christian Church included setting the approximate location of the future sanctuary, and authorization of the trustees to sell a portion of the grounds under suitable terms. David Heisler, chairman of the deacons, presided.

It was decided to build the sanctuary south of the driveway. This action leaves three possibilities, construction of the building on either end of the present building, which was formerly a private home, or at the rear center, the pastor, Rev. Ashley Booth, stated.

Final decision will be made by the congregation after further work and study by the building committee. Progress of the building project will depend on working out of finances.

The church property on Mt Vernon Ave, lying between Bradford and Greenwood Sts, is the former King mansion and the former Etowah estate, and is the present church building. Purchase of the estate from the Ray King and Hoover Brown families was made in 1947 by the Central Christian congregation which had sold its church property on W Church St to the congregation of First Church of the Nazarene.

On completion of the new sanctuary for worship, the former home which is now used for the social, educational, and worship purposes of the congregation, will be given over entirely to Church School and social activities of the church congregation.

Truman

He called his targets "old isolationists" become "The new isolationists, the new imperialists"—and at one point, "morticians of the mind"

Rips Isolationism

Truman declared there now is an "investigating frenzy" in the nation, and he said the forces behind it are also seeking an American isolationism which he contended would eventually doom the free world if put into effect He added

"Only the whole free community, we and our allies together, our resources and theirs combined, is strong enough and big enough to meet the threat to freedom and give us victory for freedom's cause"

MOTORIST ARRESTED

Norman W Richardson, 22 of 184 Hughes St was scheduled to appear in Municipal Court this morning on a charge of reckless operation. He was arrested on Charles St yesterday afternoon

Around Council's Table

Marion City Council last night passed seven routine pieces of legislation, denied an eighth, received requests for elimination of smoke nuisances from three industrial firms, received three damage claims, and discussed a number of other matters of municipal government.

2 To Attend Conference

Two ordinances authorizing Municipal Court Judge W. Dexter Hazen and Assistant City Solicitor Don Williamson to attend a Traffic Court Conference at Northwestern University, Oct 12 through 16 were approved. The ordinances authorized payment of $175 to each for expenses Only dissenting vote on either ordinance was cast by Councilman-at-large Tom Clark He voted against authorization of expenses for Williamson.

A similar ordinance authorizing Police Captain Clyde Hardin to attend the conference was turned down Only vote for passage was cast by Don Quaintance, Fifth Ward.

Smoke Protest Received

Some nine residents living in the area of the Isaly Dairy Co plant on E Center St, presented a petition to council declaring the plant creates a smoke nuisance They asked Council to take some appropriate action Following a brief discussion, Council decided there was little it could do except ask plant officials to cooperate in eliminating as much smoke as possible City Solicitor George A Piacentino was directed to discuss the matter with plant officials

A similar request concerning the Erie Railroad Co. and Malo's Junk Yard was made by Carl Castle of 395 Lee St He said he was speaking for a number of residents in the area who wished Council to take appropriate action He said both firms send forth "clouds of dense black smoke which dirties clothes hung out to dry and also make it difficult to breathe." Council directed Piacentino to discuss the matter with company officials and ask their cooperation in eliminating as much smoke as possible.

Funds Transferred

An ordinance authorizing transfer of $6,175 from the Contingent Appropriations Fund was passed unanimously Largest items included were $2 000 for incidental expenses of the police department and $2,500 for subsistence of city prisoners. Councilman Clark asked why the additional large fund was needed by the police department City Auditor Elmer Shaw answered it was due to increased costs of operation of the department Don Quaintance, finance committee chairman, said his committee recommended transfer of the funds.

An ordinance authorizing transfer of $1 466 60 from the General Fund to the Special Improvements fund was passed unanimously The transfer was made necessary by increased costs of the city above estimates by City Engineer Tom S. Cathers of the city's share of total costs of improvements made on Fahey St, Universal Ave, Homer St, Clover Ave, Merchant Ave, Pennsylvania Ave, Latourette St., Council St., and the Garfield St. sewer.

An ordinance transferring $336 22 from the Special Improvements Fund to the General Fund was approved unanimously The transfer was made possible by decreased cost of improvements made on Midlam Ave, Uhler Ave, and Bennett St decreasing the city's share of the total cost.

Trucks Transferred

Transfer of seven motor vehicles from the garbage department to the service department along with transfer of $3,500 from the service department to the garbage department as payment for the trucks was approved City Auditor Elmer Shaw told Council the transfer was requested to keep records of each department in order The trucks were formerly used as garbage trucks and will now be used in the street department and sewer department.

Alley Vacated

Vacation of an eastwest alley between S. State and S Vine Sts. south of Gurley Ave was approved by Council. The Streets and Alleys Committee reported all adjoining property owners desired the alley closed.

Action on a request that an alley running east and west between Windsor and Cherry St north of Bellefontaine Ave be vacated was delayed pending further investigation by Council The Streets and Alleys Committee recommended the vacation be granted. However, Don Quaintance, a member of the committee, pointed out the alley is in good condition and serves some five garages. Attorney Riley Hall said all abutting property owners desired the vacation. He said the property owners planned to maintain the land as an alley and to barricade each end of it to prevent its being used as "raceway" by motorists

Councilman Harold Fralich Sixth Ward, brought up a question concerning Ohio Ave He said Council should either vacate the street or keep the weeds in it mowed He said one man living near the street told him his little girl required medical treatment for injuries suffered from thistles while playing in Ohio Ave Safety-Service Director Ralph Forest said the street was mowed once this year. Council took no further action

Damage Claims Received

Three damage claims were received

One requested payment for a basketful of toys mistakenly taken away by city rubbish collectors. It was referred to the Municipal Service Committee

Another asking payment for damage to an automobile caused by a defective sewer catch basin cover was also sent to the Municipal Service Committee Piacentino was directed to bring in legislation to the next Council meeting to pay a claim for $22 50 damage to a TV antenna lead-in wire caused when it was caught on a city garbage truck and torn loose.

Solicitor Gives Opinion

In reply to a request made by Council at its last meeting City Solicitor George Piacentino submitted an opinion concerning paving of parking areas on Mandana Ave and Seminole Ave between Harding High School grounds and the streets He said it is his opinion the strips of land along both streets are owned by the city There was discussion at the last Council meeting as to whether the city or the school board owned the land Piacentino said in order to clear up the record, he has asked the school board to present the city with a dedication deed for Seminole Ave. This property was previously accepted by the city but no dedication deed is on record, he said.

In addition he said, the city could make the necessary improvements to the streets and then assess the school board for its share of the cost, providing the school board petitions for the improvements.

He also stated that the strips of land would be considered part of the streets and that the city would have control over use of the paved strips

The school board previously asked that strips of land along both streets between presently paved portions and parking areas on school property paved by the school board also be paved to eliminate cars crossing the dirt strips to reach the parking spaces.

Piacentino said further action by Council will depend on whether or not the school board petitions for the improvements

A resolution authorizing the Ohio Edison Co to install a street light on Merchant Ave. was unanimously approved

Anti-Noise Ordinance

In answer to a question by Mayor Harold F. Robinson concerning possibility of adoption of an anti-noise ordinance primarily to control excessive noise of trucks passing through the city, Council said it would take no immediate action Reason given for this stand was that Columbus is now having legal difficulties with a similar ordinance and Council desires to wait until the issue is settled before attempting to set up such an ordinance for Marion.

Farm Group Hears Report

Society's Crop Return Placed at $20,000

The Agriculture Society of Ohio wound up the activities of its first summer with a fall festival Sunday at the society farm in Morrow County near Fulton.

Members toured the farm and heard a report from the farm committee which estimated that the crop return for the current fiscal year would total approximately $20,000

The society was organized last fall by 15 Marion residents as a spare-time farming movement aimed at providing city families with farm life and recreation

At Sunday's meeting the organization formulated plans for the coming year. It was decided to plant 54 acres of wheat, 125 acres of corn, 40 acres of oats, 100 acres of soybeans and 18 acres of buckwheat or other mill grain An extensive five-year stock program was also set up

It was also decided to accept several more membership applications and to hold a winter festival sometime in December

Current activities at the society's 421-acre farm include the operation of a cider press, readying the equipment for the maple sugar project, and preparation for harvesting the corn and soy bean crops

Tentative plans are also being made to construct a dam on the farm's creek to create an artificial lake

These Days

By George Sokolsky

SOKOLSKY

The CIO did the job right. It expelled the Communist unions, thus making two facts clear: 1—That there are Communist unions; 2—That organized labor resents them.

It took the CIO a long time to acknowlege what was an obvious fact. For years, its apologists were denying that there were any Communist unions or any Communist officials in the CIO, despite the fact that its general counsel was Lee Pressman and the editor of its publication, Len de Caux.

Then what happened? Nothing! The Communist unions continue to bargain collectively; they continue to be recognized by the National Labor Relations Board and by important industries.

THEIR POSITION is unassailable under the law. The only group that is actively fighting the Red unions is organized labor, the American Federation of Labor and the CIO.

Industry does nothing about it. Industry has become so accustomed to government intervention in management that it avoids issues which the government does not settle.

One of the most dangerous unions in this country is the United Electrical Workers. It has been expelled from the CIO as a Communist union.

It is dangerous because it brings a Communist union directly into the most secret agencies of war preparation. Its members are engaged in the production of new weapons which we are trying to keep from the Russians. Its members have access to plans and blueprints.

The CIO has established its own union to compete with UE—the International Union of Electrical Workers. The UE, as an expelled union, has no protection against raiding by either CIO or AFL unions.

IT IS A free-for-all fight, but the UE remains strong because management continues to do business with it.

The excuse of management is that it has to deal with any union certified by the NLRB, which is undoubtedly correct, but no law can require management to deal with perjurers, and the officials of most of the Communist unions committed perjury when they took the non-Communist oath under the Taft-Hartley law.

Management, in such industries, takes the position that it is up to the Department of Justice to prosecute for perjury, which is also correct.

Management takes the position that when a Communist union is certified as the bargaining agency in plants engaged in the most secretive war preparations, including the Atomic Energy Commission's contractor plants, the men should be screened by the government, not by private industry.

THE TASK of screening has become so stupendous that no agency of government has sufficient funds or trained personnel to do it effectively.

The FBI has been after the UE. Its genius, James Matles, is in the courts on a deportation charge and other officials have been arrested on conspiracy charges, but as long as the UE continues to hold contracts with such large firms as General Electric, it will have great power.

Therefore, the real fight for the continued existence of this union will be in the Schenectady plant of General Electric. Should the UE lose that contract in a government - supervised election, it will be reduced to insignificance.

THE COMMUNIST unions, when they were first organized, specialized in electrical equipment, transportation, communications and retail sales.

Altogether there were 11 such unions and all of them were strategic from a political and military standpoint. They could tie up the country in time of war.

While some of them claim that they have cleaned house and that they are no longer under Communist leadership, their conduct is unchanged. They are still functioning as though directed by a foe of this country.

The assumption is correct that most of the membership of the Communist unions is not Communist.

-:-

EVEN MANY of the lesser leaders are not Communists. That has nothing to do with the problem.

There is not one instance on record to show that the non-Communist or anti-Communist rank and file of UE have taken a stand against the Red leadership of their union.

There is not a single instance on record that the rank and file refused to strike when ordered out by their Red leadership.

Therefore, the general excuse that only a few leaders are bad but the rank and file are good becomes meaningless in the face of the facts.

The Communist unions ought to be outlawed by name.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

ST. LOUIS

The dramatic appearances on the flood-lit AFL convention platform of international personalities who have reshaped world history, or are about to do so, has obscured a report which may well affect the power of the very men who have flown here in special Constellations and Army planes.

RIESEL

This report was barely listened to by the delegates, who were either debating among themselves whether to give Secretary of State John Foster Dulles the icy treatment which frosted Dick Nixon or to woop it up for the ex-President Harry Truman, whom they love so much.

-:-

THE REPORT, presented by the AFL's political director, James L. McDevitt, revealed that the Democrats need only four more seats to control the House of Representatives.

McDevitt disclosed that the AFL, as its leaders later told Mr. Truman, were ready with specific plans to spend money and manpower in specified areas to win those four seats, as well as certain Senate spots, to deprive the Republicans of political power next year.

This would mean that President Eisenhower would need the pro-labor section of the Democratic party for votes to put through his program.

That explains why the President ripped three of his Cabinet members out of their work to fly here to the AFL session.

Nixon hit town at 2:40 a.m. Wednesday and Dulles had the Army ferry him to and from the United Nations debate with the Russians.

These missions, plus that of Mrs. Oveta Culp Hoby, were made at the special request of the President.

-:-

THE ASSIGNMENT for Nixon, for example, was telephoned personally by Mr. Eisenhower last Tuesday.

He telephoned his vice - president long distance and said:

"I want you to deliver this message in person. The AFL is too big, too important, an organization just to get a cold note from me on a slip of paper. You go as my personal representative."

Nixon, knowing that AFL leaders believed he had prevented their getting the kind of labor laws they wanted, demurred politely. He thought he'd be badly received and would do harm to the President's prestige.

"You go anyway," President Eisenhower said. "And don't just deliver my message. Talk for yourself. Let them know what you think, and let them get to know you personally."

-:-

NIXON SPOKE and lunched with most of the AFL executive council. Just before the parfait and coffee came, and after considerable twitting by the ebullient Jimmie Petrillo, Nixon heard gruff old Dan Tobin president emeritus of the Teamsters Brotherhood, say:

"All right, Dick, next campaign I won't be so tough on you."

Later, up in his 10th floor suite at Jefferson Hotel, Nixon sat for over two hours listening, mostly, to ex - Labor Secretary Martin Durkin, acting Labor Secretary Lloyd Mashburn and to the AFL's Republican labor men, Maurice Hutcheson of the Carpenters and Dick Gray of the powerful Construction Trades.

Nixon told them the President wants to work out the Taft-Hartley law changes with them and asked for suggestions right along the line, even as to their attitude on a successor to Durkin.

They parted friends. Nixon headed for the airport knowing he had completed a mission — he had drawn the lightning publicly and had made friends privately.

-:-

DULLES ARRIVED the next day and really took the convention. He was warmly received by three of the AFL's most powerful men—Matthew Woll, David Dubinsky and George Harrison, the latter two traditionally the most aggressive anti - Republican leaders.

Along with Meany, they nodded their approval as Dulles praised their anti-Communist work abroad. They didn't duck being photographed with him, as they did when Nixon finished.

The delegates believed what Dulles said — and that he was not just buttering them up. The applause proved that.

That's a vignette of things to come — Mr. Eisenhower's matching his foreign policy against a conservative domestic policy in his approach to organized labor.

Does he still need to worry about the labor chiefs?

THEY SAY THE ANSWER is in their political report, which revealed:

"Even though Eisenhower got the most votes in 297 of the nation's 435 congressional districts, only 221 Republican congressmen were elected, compared to 214 Democrats, only three more than the number needed to control the House. Actually, the Democratic congressmen polled about 200 000 more votes than did their Republican opponents throughout the country.

"Contrasted to 1947, when we (AFL) had only 83 friends in the House vote against Taft - Hartley, we can now count on more than 160 friends, even after the 1952 election.

"In the Senate we did even better. A total of 38 friends of labor were in the Senate after the 1950 election and that is exactly the number whom we count as friends after this election. We broke even—."

Which is why Ike, while not wooing the AFL, certainly isn't kicking it around.

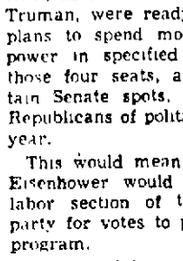
Series Casualty

By Inez Robb

"You and your Dodgers," I snarled to the head of Clan Robb.

He put the evening paper down and said, sort of like Peter Lorre, "You are speaking of the team I love."



INEZ ROBB

"Them and their gorilla!" I cried. "Bad cess to both."

"How many times do I have to tell you that they don't have a gorilla on the team?" Mr. R. demanded.

"That's the way it sounds on the radio."

"The man's name is Furillo Carl Furilla," the head of the clan said.

"THEY'D PROBABLY do better with a gorilla."

"Mr. Furillo is the likely National League batting champion," Mr R said with dignity. "And if some idiot hadn't stepped on his hand—"

"What was he doing, walking on his hands if he isn't a gorilla?"

"He wasn't walking on his hands," replied Mr. R. "He was wrestling with Leo Durocher and some fool stepped on Furillo's left hand."

"I think bar fights are terrible. It's what gives saloons a bad name."

"They weren't fighting in a bar!" the head of the clan said. "They weren't in a saloon. It was just a hassle at the ball park."

"It would serve Leo Durocher right if he was a gorilla!"

"That's the first thing you've said so far that makes sense," said my spouse. He started to pick up the evening paper. Then he put it down.

"WHAT STARTED this in the first place?" he asked.

"You and your Dodgers!" I sniffed. "We aren't going to have a housekeeper for the duration of the World Series. You and your talk to her about the Dodgers!"

"What's happened to Susie? she seemed all right at dinner time."

"And why shouldn't she seem all right? She's taking ten days off to see the World Series," I said.

"But she's already had her vacation, hasn't she?"

"Certainly, she has. But she came to me today and explained that she had to have time off for the whole series. She's fallen in love with that gorilla."

"Furillo," Mr. R. said, automatically. "You mean she's got tickets for the series? Has she robbed a bank?"

"No, she's going to watch the games on television."

"Oh, well then, she might as well watch them here as at home. There's no reason she can't keep the house tidied up and get us a bite of dinner on the side," the head of the clan suggested, rather complacently. "The games don't last all day. I don't see why you women can't settle little matters like this, without making a project of them."

"All right, Mr Justice Holmes, you go right out in the kitchen now and settle the matter," I said.

-:-

MR. R. DEPARTED for the kitchen with confident step. He was back in five minutes looking a bit bewildered.

"Did she tell you she couldn't watch the games here because the TV reception is better in her neighborhood?" I asked.

Mr. R nodded.

"That's what she told me!" I said.

"You and your—"

"Gorillas," said the head of the clan, reaching for the sports section.

Hand Glassware Industry Seeking Tariff Protection

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has to act within 60 days on a tariff commission report affecting the American handmade glassware industry, an industry spokesman said today.

The industry — largely concentrated in Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania—wants tariffs or import quotas imposed on foreign-made hand glassware.

The tariff commission held hearings early this year on the industry's claim that its business was being hurt by the sale in the U.S. of glassware made by low - paid workers in such countries as West Germany and Japan. The commission's recommendation is still secret.

O. R. Strackbein, chairman of the nationwide Committee of Industry, Agriculture and Labor on Import-Export Policy, said the commission had to make its glassware report to the President by Sept. 24. Under the law, he said, Eisenhower must approve or disapprove the decision within 60 days after receiving the report.

Strackbein's group, representing industries and unions claiming losses from competition abroad, includes the American Glassware Assn. of New York City and the American Flint Glass Workers Union of Toledo, Ohio.

Brainwashed POW's in Need of Care

By JOHN P. SEMBOWER

CINCINNATI, (NANA)—Return to the old home town, reunion with family and friends, and a rocking chair will quickly erase all the effects of Red "brain-washing" in returning prisoners of war, says a University of Cincinnati psychologist who, after three wars, has studied the problems of returning discharged servicemen to civilian life.

Dr. Arthur G. Bills predicts that the healing powers of back-to-normal American living will help even the few extreme "progressives" to "come to themselves" much more quickly than anyone expects.

He warns, however, that the first step is to see that no stigma attaches to the POW for having succumbed to Red propaganda. This adjustment on the part of the people who must greet their returning POW with open arms and a warm welcome is easy if it is realized what he has been through.

THERE IS NO POINT in questioning his intelligence, reasoning, or rationalizing powers, for even the most intelligent, reasonable, and rational person can be made to believe absurd things in 10 minutes through hypnosis," says Dr. Bills.

"Consider how a person exposed to 'brain-washing' for six months or a year could accept beliefs, however bizarre, and take into account the much greater strain of life as a prisoner of war over, even the rigors of undergoing combat," he adds.

Dr. Bills estimates that 75 per cent of the prisoners have suffered emotional disturbances which require readjustment. This is based on his studies after World Wars I and II, and the Korean conflict, as well as personal experience as a combat veteran in 1918-19.

He considers it fortunate that prisoners are not viewed in the same light in this country as in the Orient, where such a stigma is attached to them that repatriated Chinese and North Korean troops often destroyed their uniforms and roughed themselves up in an attempt to attract sympathy, rather than scorn, from their own side.

BUT, EVEN IN the United States, he explains, there is sometimes "a vague implication" which remains to plague the returning prisoner. He warns that they often are extremely irritable —a natural release of nervous tension to be endured by their families.

This is Dr. Bills' prescription for rehabilitating a returned POW:

Above all, put up with what may seem to be surprising outbursts of hostility. Remember they have learned to hate, and that hate, frustrations, and memories of treatment received in enemy camps may boil over. The home folks must not take offense. Never push, prod, or harass. The boys do not like to talk at first, and resent being made objects of curiosity. If left alone, they often provide their own best therapy for their emotional disturbances.

—:—

BUT WHEN THEY DO begin to talk—as they will!—by all means listen. It is the long-awaited outpouring which relieves, at last, the nervous tensions and worries. The impulse to unload often comes at the most unpredictable and unexpected times.

Reporting on the case of one veteran who seemed almost hopeless, Dr. Bills said that he sat in the rocker in the living room or on the porch, and he rocked back and forth for 12 months.

Suddenly he snapped out of it, roused himself, went to work, fell in love, married, raised a family, and is today a fine example of success."

"It might be a good idea to get a rocker or two," adds Dr. Bills.

Brownell Has Secret Session With Warren

SACRAMENTO, Calif (AP)—Belief that Republican Gov Earl Warren is headed for a federal post—most likely the Supreme Court—grew Monday after a secret conference with a visitor identified as Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell.

What they talked about was not disclosed. But plainly President Eisenhower's patronage counsellor would not have flown here to trade notes about the World Series with California's 63 year old lawyer-governor.

In Washington, it was reported an appointment to the Supreme Court is awaiting formal recommendation to the White House by Brownell. The attorney general has been a principal adviser to Eisenhower in the appointment field, with special interest in the judiciary.

High government sources in Washington reported Brownell has had a series of conferences with Eisenhower on the Supreme Court situation. They said he is now drawing up a summary of his views for the White House but has not yet made any concrete recommendations.

The big question, of course, is Who will get the appointment? But there also is this. Will the new man be designated as chief justice? Or will one of the eight present justices be shifted to the vacant middle chair?

Tito Rejects Plan To Settle Trieste Dispute

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Yugoslavia formally rejected Monday the Italian proposal for settling the quarrel over Trieste by means of a plebiscite.

Italian Premier Giuseppe Pella had proposed a vote by the 380,000 residents to determine the future of the strategic Adriatic port city and surrounding territory.

President Tito had orally rejected the Italian proposal in a speech two weeks ago at Split but Yugoslavia made her stand official today in a note delivered to the Italian ministry here.

Tito has proposed the internationalization of the port city of Trieste and the ceding of the surrounding territory to Yugoslavia.

Today's note followed the same line of argument as Tito did at Split. It said a plebiscite would be unfair on the ground that Italy has pushed Yugoslavs out of the Trieste area since the end of World War I. Trieste belonged to Italy after the First World War but was given the status of a free territory under terms of the Italian peace treaty of World War II.

President Tito skipped mention of Trieste in a speech yesterday at Ruma. This had led to speculation that Tito was anxious not to upset secret diplomatic negotiations aimed at settling the Trieste issue.

Corn Fritters Will Satisfy Any Appetite

With fall here and appetites returning, you'll appreciate having something as easy to prepare as corn fritters. A package of pancake ready-mix and a can of corn or some left-over corn, are your basic ingredients.

Try serving them with little pork sausages and buttered green beans. Here are the simplified directions for this old-fashioned favorite: 1 cup pancake ready-mix, 1 beaten egg, ½ cup milk, 2 cups cooked whole kernel corn, drained.

Add beaten egg and milk to ready-mix, mixing until fairly smooth. Fold in whole kernel corn. Fry on hot well-greased griddle, turning when brown on underside. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve hot with syrup

This recipe makes 12 fritters.

The other accident happened on State Route 529 Saturday afternoon at 5:20. David Heacock, 37, of Cardington failed to negotiate a curve on the road and struck an embankment. The front and of his car was heavily damaged. Heacock escaped injury.

Painters Do Good Turn in Syracuse

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—The modest home of Peter L. Pratt has a gleaming new coat of paint, and 11 members of Local 31, Painters Union, have a glow in their hearts.

Union officials learned recently that Pratt, who is over 70 and nearly blind, was trying to paint the house himself. He relied on his sense of touch to tell what had been painted

One morning after Pratt had left for his job in a hospital laundry, the 11 volunteers converged on the house, brushes swinging. By the end of the day, all but a small area was finished. The union said it would provide a gallon of paint and men to complete the job.

Many Dream of Owning Own Homes

Russians Long for Property, Privacy

By TOM WHITNEY

LONDON (AP)—A fortunate Russian, after long efforts, may get a small plot of land on which to build a home.

What is the first thing he does, then? He erects a fine, big fence all the way around the lot. He is out to make certain his property, such as it is, is just as private as he can make it.

Thirty-five years of Soviet socialism seem to have succeeded only in sharpening the instinct of the Russian people to hold private property. Many Muscovites dream of owning their own homes outside the city. Thousands of them live in crowded communal apartments, with only one room to call their own. They share kitchen, bath, toilet and corridors with several other families. They long for privacy. They want a piece of land they can call their own.

This is not easy to accomplish. A postwar decree guaranteed every Soviet citizen the right to own his own house and plot of land. But for most Moscow dwellers the dream of having their own house is bound to remain a dream. It costs lots of money, and government loans to home builders, though they exist, are few.

Nor is it easy to get a plot of land allotted, or even to find an organization which will contract to erect the house. A Russian often has to build his own home, or gradually put it up over a period of years as he is able to find money, materials and labor.

For four summers another correspondent and I shared a summer home in a Moscow suburb. We rented at a high price from the Soviet organization which provides housing for foreign diplomats and correspondents.

Across the way was a building lot occupied by a colonel of the Soviet Army. We never met him, but we watched him build his house over the four-year period. First he lived in a shed. Finally, last summer, he had the ground floor far enough along so he could move into it. He is still working on it and his efforts are a tribute to Russians' patience and stubbornness in acquiring property.

I saw 60 or 80 homes go up in the four years I visited this suburb, but private home building is a drop in the bucket of Russian needs and desires.

Nor is the great desire to own a house the only expression of the pride of possession. To own a car has become something of a fever despite difficulties in garaging and maintenance.

Long lines of persons assemble every morning at one automobile store in Moscow, to keep their priority on the purchase of a small Pobeda or Moskvitch. They may have to report to the head of this line for two weeks, a month, even six weeks. When they reach their turn the Pobeda will cost 16,000 rubles. That is officially the equivalent of $4,000, and the actual equivalent of an average worker's gross earnings for two years. Since the terms are cash, the average worker obviously is not doing the buying.

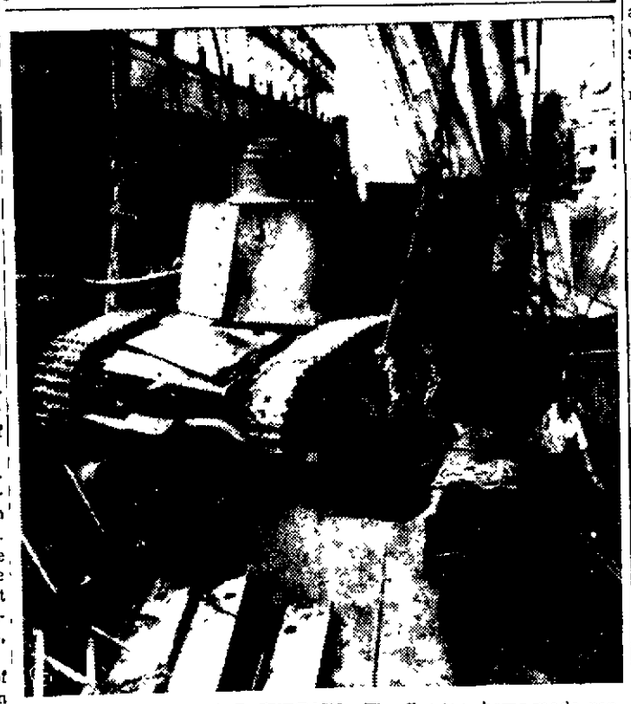
But there is no one prouder than the Muscovite who has just got his own car.

My observation during nine years in Russia was that the urge to own private property was growing rather than disappearing. And it is my own opinion that the Soviet government if it wants to have a contented population will have to go a long way in making concessions to satisfy it.

It will also have to do more about the high cost of living, and taxes.

The price of every bottle of vodka is roughly 95 per cent tax. High liquor taxes are of course common to most countries, but the Soviet government has dared to extend the liquor tax principle to most other merchandise.

The "turnover tax" gives the government nearly half its revenue. It is a sales tax, but concealed so Russians do not know they pay it. They only know that prices are high in comparison with wages.



'TANK' THAT CRASHED CURTAIN. The five-ton, home-made replica of a tank that crashed through the Iron Curtain and carried eight Czechs to freedom last July 25, is shown as it was unloaded on arrival in New York. One of the escapees, a Pilsen mechanic, worked for two years secretly at night constructing the vehicle from automobile parts and junk. It will be placed on exhibition in various parts of the United States.

Boy Assumed Bass Was Female, Naturally

DALLAS (AP)—Mrs. J. W. Sewell says the high spot of her vacation trip to San Marcos, Tex., came during a visit to that city's submarine theater.

She was in a glass-bottomed boat viewing underwater life when a 7-year-old boy asked the guide what kind of fish it was that was swimming down below.

"That," he replied, "is a large-mouth bass."

"Oh," said the small boy thoughtfully. "You mean it's a female!"

Philadelphia Worker Survives 13,000 Volts

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Edward Cooper, 40, a Philadelphia welder, was climbing down an iron girder supporting a roof over a transformer platform yesterday when the back of his neck touched a copper rod carrying 13,000 volts of electricity.

He was stuck to the girder until an automatic circuit breaker shut off the current. He then dropped unconscious to the platform.

Rescuers lowered him to the ground and he was taken to a hospital in fair condition.

Village in Clermont County Out of Water

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP)—Public water service was cut off Monday for the 2,000 residents of the nearby Clermont County town of Bethel.

Waterworks Supt. N. S. Leonard said the town's water supply has been exhausted except for that being held in a standpipe for fire protection purposes.

The water shortage forced town officials last week to cut off service except for 15 minutes a day. Even that was discontinued today, however, and Leonard said waterworks employes were engaged in shutting off valves at the meters.

Townspeople talked of holding a mass meeting in the village park to offer prayers for rain.

Radio and Television

By John Crosby

Triumph

One by one all the Hollywood big names are getting into the act — Ray Milland, Loretta Young and Joan Crawford, being the latest to succumb. Succumb, I'm afraid, is the right word, too. The sort of material some of these people surround themselves with is strictly from the bottom of the deck under the theory, I suppose, that nothing on television has to be very good.

J. CROSBY

The Milland series in particular is an unqualified disaster. Milland, a very good actor indeed, has stumbled into a comedy format in which he plays the role of an absent-minded professor, a part I thought had been retired to stud 40 years ago. He forgets to put on his pants. He boasts that he has a system for recalling things by writing them in a little notebook — and then forgets the notebook and, of brother! It's painful to see so much talent wasted on stuff like this.

-:-

THE BIG SCENE on the opening show involved Milland and a babe he didn't know was in his house going in and out of a bathroom, one of those things where one person closes one door while someone else opens another one, just missing each other by inches. It's been done before. And it'll be done again. As a matter of sober fact, CBS was up to its hips in people closing doors and opening them last week. The Red Buttons show, a very good show ordinarily, had about six people running in and out of doors. Same act but more people.

"Meet Mr. McNutley" which is the name of this unfortunate enterprise, is just plain silly. The comic strips progressed way beyond this level of humor a good many years ago and it does seem a shame that television, which has become very big business, has to go through it all over again.

There's a character, for example, an non-jawed old dame who is principal of the school and Milland's boss. She has some great lines like "Well!" which she pronounces with upraised eyebrows and distended nostrils. When she isn't welling around the stage, it's peopled by Milland's pal, a wise-cracking strutting idiot, who takes him duck-hunting and, in general, acts as decoy for those bathroom scenes.

I DON'T KNOW who thought this stuff was any good to start out with but I notice that the producers of the show are named Joe Connelly and Bob Mosher and that the writers, by an odd coincidence, are named Connelly and Moser, too. Either they need a new team of writers or a new team of producers or both.

Loretta Young's series is called "Letter to Loretta" and is supposed to be based on the fan letters she has received as a movie actress. A good many people have written in for advice, apparently, and these dramas are based on the letters with Miss Young acting out the part of the letter-writers.

Loretta Young is a very beautiful and ageless girl who has learned a great deal about acting since I first saw her in films years ago. She's an astonishingly good comedienne and the first part of her show was done with a professional polish on the acting, direction and writing. It was a story about a girl who sells perfume thus attracting the attention of a Philadelphia Main Liner. He takes her home to his family of stuffed shirts with matrimony in mind. Up to this point, the show was a model of television high comedy.

THEN THE OLD Hollywood urge toward silliness arose and things began coming apart. It was a triumph of personal magnetism that Miss Young rose above her material. She has enormous charm, as well as beauty, and she has a whole bagful of acting tricks.

Frankly, I don't see how they can miss with this gal — but then I keep reminding myself not to underestimate Hollywood. They can miss with some awfully sure-fire people

(New York Herald Tribune)

Shirley Temple Is Expecting 3rd Child

SANTA MONICA, Calif (AP) — Shirley Temple is going to have a baby next March.

The former movie actress, now married to Charles Black, said the birth of her third child will be by Caesarean section here, where she herself was born 25 years ago. The Blacks have a daughter, Susan, 5½ years, and a son, Charles Junior. Susan's real father is John Agar, Miss Temple's first husband.

Deputy Arrests His Own Brother on Stolen Car Charge

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Deputy Sheriff James A. Crews arrested his own brother on charges of transporting a stolen automobile.

Memphis FBI Chief Charles E. Weeks told this story:

Milton Crews, 30, now living in Akron, Ohio, arrived here Friday to visit the deputy sheriff. He was driving a new automobile but couldn't explain to his brother where he had gotten it.

Deputy Crews called the FBI, which disclosed the car had been stolen from an Akron parking lot.

Milton was arraigned yesterday after his brother took him into custody and turned him over to federal officers. He was released in $1,000 bond to await federal grand jury action.

Weeks quoted the deputy as saying his brother had suffered memory lapses since being injured in an automobile accident seven years ago.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A 22-ounce baby born as a twin last Saturday is still alive today. The other twin died shortly after birth.

Prospects for the surviving baby were considered "fair" by hospital attendants. The tiny son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Woods is being given glucose and water and is in an incubator with an oxygen tent attached.

Prisoner Didn't Want To Break Up Quartet

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Marcel Sanders, 29, was about to be paroled from the state penitentiary today when he asked the pardons and paroles board to let him stay in prison at least another six months.

He sings bass for the "Prisonnaires," a Negro quartet known in this area for its vocal music and recordings.

Sanders wants a few more months to finish up some recordings. Officials indicated they may go along on the request.

He is serving five years for manslaughter.

Lausche Won't Appoint Self To Taft's Seat

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov Frank J Lausche today definitely eliminated himself as an appointee to succeed the late Sen. Robert A. Taft.

Numerous Ohioans and others have urged Lausche, a Democrat, to name himself to the post left vacant by the July 31 death of one of the nation's leading Republicans

Asked if he could appoint himself to the U S. Senate, Ohio's first four-term governor told newsmen:

"I am advised it is possible but to appoint myself would be vain and improper.

"Under no circumstances would I give any consideration to that method of achieving the office."

That eliminated only one man from speculation over a successor that has ranged from members of the Taft family to present office holders and private individuals, both Democrats and Republicans

Wounded Girl, 13, Reported Improved

Thirteen-year-old Patricia Manley, who was accidentally shot in a game of "Cowboy and Indians" over the weekend, is improving at Marion City Hospital, her mother, Mrs. Carolyn Manley of 351 Commercial St., reported today.

Patricia and a younger brother, Pete, 11, were playing in the house when the 22-caliber rifle they were using discharged and a bullet struck the girl in the stomach.

Mrs. Manley reported that a blanket Patricia was wearing as part of the game's costume softened the impact of the bullet. The unloaded gun had been in the house for several years. Somewhere the boy had found a bullet which he did not think was any good and placed it in the gun.

Patricia is the daughter of Mrs. Manley and Pete Manley of 699½ E. Center St. She is a seventh grade student at St. Mary School.

Vatican Paper Says Cardinal Held in Poland

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano reported today Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski was arrested by Communist police in Poland last week after a night-long search of his residence in Warsaw.

The paper's report said armed Red police raided the archepiscopal building on the night of Sept. 25 and forced all persons found there to face the wall while the search went on.

Dispatches from Warsaw today said the cardinal had been barred from his churchy offices as Roman Catholic primate of Poland and confined to a monastery at the request of the Polish episcopate.

L'Osservatore Romano said following the search the cardinal was arrested in the morning and "taken to an unknown place."

The Vatican paper said Cardinal Wyszynski sealed his fate when he spoke out against the trial and sentencing of the Most Rev. Czeslaw Kaczmarek, bishop of Kielce, and three other Catholic priests and a nun by a military court in Warsaw on charges of spying for the United States and the Vatican. The bishop was sentenced to 12 years and the others from 6 to 10.

McCarthy

ton, D. C., who was raised in the Presbyterian faith, has adopted McCarthy's religion.

Their vows were to be spoken before the Rev. Fr. William J. Awalt, who will also conduct the nuptial low mass assisted by the Rev. Fr. Augustine Maloney of Augustinian College here. A reception at the exclusive Washington Club will follow.

It is the first marriage for McCarthy, 43, and for Miss Kerr, 29. She is the daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Kerr and, in her college days, was picked as a beauty queen both at George Washington and Northwestern universities. Her father, William P. Kerr, died some years ago.

McCarthy and his blue-eyed bride have kept secret their honeymoon plans, except to say that a great deal of the trip will be in his native Wisconsin. McCarthy told newsmen yesterday they had planned to be gone four weeks, but that the staff of his Senate investigations subcommittee had persuaded him to stay away no more than three.

Al Lopez Signs Two-Year Contract With Cleveland

Salary Hinted at $40,000; Will Run Club 'His Way'

NEW YORK (AP) — Manager Al Lopez, three times a runner-up in the American League race, is getting two more chances to lead Cleveland to a pennant.

Lopez signed a new two-year contract yesterday at a reported annual salary of $40,000, ending rumors that he was "out"

Hank Greenberg, Cleveland general manager, said, "We've always been completely happy with Al and at no time has there been any consideration given to not renewing his contract"

Lopez soffed at reports in the Cleveland News that he had thought of leaving the club unless he could get a promise from Greenberg that he (Lopez) would "run the club in his own way"

'I m very happy to stay in Cleveland ' said Lopez 'I never talked to any other club owner I was under contract to Cleveland and didn t know what Hank wanted to do He told me to wait until we got to New York and we d have a talk"

Lopez credited a "really overwhelming" response by the public for persuading him to remain as manager.

"I'm very happy I like the ball club, I like the people in Cleveland and I'm happy about the whole thing"

Although neither Lopez nor Greenberg would comment, sports writers in Cleveland speculated that Greenberg promised the manager a freer hand in running the team and that this figured largely in Lopez's decision to stay on the job

After their 30-minute conference Greenberg said he thought Lopez "has done a terrific job in the three years he has managed the club and at no time was consideration given to replacing him"

The general manager said salary terms for the two-year pact were not discussed 'I simply told Al we all wanted him to come back and he said he would," Greenberg declared "Money was not a factor in his decision at all"

Lopez admitted he had thought of giving up the job The Indians have finished second in each of the three years he has been at the helm, and Lopez said "I got the feeling that they wanted a change I felt I had lost their support somehow."

AL LOPEZ

"Well, I didn t know what to do," he added "Then stories started to appear in the papers that I might not come back and the response was really overwhelming . ."

Barons Solve Problem, Sign Ace Performer

The Marion Barons have solved their first line problem at center with the signing of Gordon "Golden Boy" Vejprava, all-time scoring champion of the Western Canada League, Coach Ott Heller announced today

The blond native of Bellevue Alberta, is the number one reason Heller is eagerly awaiting the opening of the International Hockey League season here.

"The kid has plenty of brains is a good shot and fast. Heller commented about his top prospect "Just say he looks very good, and I'm not kidding," he added

Gordon scored 50 goals and 51 assists with the Bellevue Coalers in compiling h. record of 101 points

He is 20 years old stands 5 feet 9 inches and weighs 160 pounds The rookie was brought up last season for two games with the Cleveland Barons

The Marion Barons are in their second week of training at Barrie Ontario, while the Cleveland Barons have left camp for an exhibition tour with Montreal, National Hockey League Champions The tour will wind up in Marion on Saturday, Oct 10 when Cleveland and Marion will hold an admission free open house at the Coliseum It will include a hockey clinic with rules and plays demonstrated by the two squads followed by public skating

The first hockey game on the Coliseum's new rink will be played the following afternoon at 3 p m when Cleveland and Marion will play an exhibition game

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

Marion fans even after three days of studying are still uncertain just what Ohio State's 36-12 win over Indiana meant. Some feel the high-powered performance by Woody Hayes' squad is the forerunner to a great possibly an undefeated season

Others are tempering their forecasts They wonder if it was a great Buckeye squad or a rather miserable Hoosier outfit

SHORT

It was probably a mixture of the two Ohio showed a bunch of hard-running backs and an aerial attack to compare with any seen at the OSU campus in several years.

John Borton's aerials kept the Hoosier defense loose and that really hurt. Bob Watkins, Howard Cassady and Jerry Harkrader took advantage of the chance to go Dave Leggett also proved he could fill in capably at the quarterback spot while Borton was out of action

The single platoon system didn't hurt the Bucks too much although it did cost them a point in the first period Tad Weed kicking specialist, had booted a field goal to shove Ohio ahead and was unable to go back in after the first touchdown Watkins tried and missed Weed was available for the rest of the kicks.

Biggest weakness seen at the opener appears to be the same [illegible] trouble which plagued last year's Buckeyes That is the punting chore John Borton appears tabbed to handle most of the kicking although Marion's Paul Ludwig got off the best one Saturday when he booted the ball 41 yards Borton s average was 37 yards a try

All in all the fanatics around Broad and High in Columbus seem satisfied with the team s performance But the more level-headed ones tell you its a long time from September to Nov 21 at Ann Arbor.

THE STAR'S GRID guessers last week, in their opening stint hit on 31 of 44 attempts for a combined average of 704 plus Walter Guthrie tied us for the top spot with nine right and two misses Both posted wrong guesses on George Keel s Kenton team Walt missed on Elm Valley's win over Johnstown and we had Bucyrus over Norwalk

Tom Kirwin came in a close second with eight right and three wrong while Bill Roberts posted a 5-6 mark

Cassady May See Action With Bucks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An X-ray taken of Howard Cassady's injured shoulder yesterday indicated Ohio State University's star halfback may be able to see limited action against California at Berkeley Saturday.

Cassady hurt his right shoulder against Indiana last Saturday and doctors, fearing a separation or fracture, said he probably would be out two or three weeks Yesterday's X-ray showed no fracture or separation Cassady worked out lightly during yesterday s drill

Richwood Oval Closes Season Saturday Night

To avoid conflicting with weekly football schedules Promotor John Collier announced today that date for a Richwood Speedway 50-lap championship race has been changed to Saturday night The race was postponed last week because of threatening weather.

In addition to its feature which will bring more than 50 cars six other events are scheduled for closing of 1953 stock car racing season Majority of the cars that competed at Powell Speedway last Saturday night will be on hand against the regular NARC drivers

No time trials are scheduled Post position will be determined by point position and starter Art Stayner will get the race under way at 8 p m with Joe Jones of Galion co-winner of the 300-lap team race three weeks ago a strong favorite to win the last feature at the Richwood track.

Waldorf Says California Is Stronger Club

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—California Coach Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf told the weekly Northern California Football Writers' luncheon yesterday that his team was "vastly improved ' last week over its opening defeat by Baylor.

Waldorf said his Bears "are not despondent" over the prospect of meeting powerful Ohio State Saturday in Berkeley "We are not confident either," he said

"We know they have a good team, but I promise you we'll make an interesting game of it"

[illegible] Stanford, which plays the Big Ten s Illinois at Champaign, is in about the same frame of mind "I know Illinois will be tough We aren't taking the game lightly" said George Lynn, Stanford backfield coach

Iberia Baseball Team Dumps Radnor for Fifth

IBERIA — Iberia rolled to its fifth straight fall baseball victory here Monday behind the hurling of Walter Chambers Chambers struck out eight and yielded only three safeties in blanking Radnor 4-0

It marked Radnor's first loss of the season after five wins The locals bunched three hits in the fourth for three runs and Ed Stall homered in the sixth for another tally

Lowell Taylor and Don Maxwell were the Radnor battery Dick Maidens was behind the plate for Iberia.

Stall led Iberia's four-hit attack with his home run and a single for two runs batted in Ron Redick drove in the other two runs with a double

The locals are scheduled in a return game at Radnor Oct 5.

Late Rally Keeps Toledo in Running

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The battling Toledo Sox refusing to be counted out will try to even up their American Association final playoff series with the Kansas City Blues tonight

The Blues were three outs away from a berth in the Little World Series last night when the Sox rallied for two runs in the ninth inning for a 5-4 victory The triumph sent the playoffs into a sixth game

Reynolds, Furillo Hold Key to Outcome of World Series

Allie, Carl Erskine Get Mound Assignments In Opening Tilt

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Allie Reynold's right arm and Carl Furillo's aching "pinky" may hold the key to the New York Yankee—Brooklyn World Series opening tomorrow at Yankee Stadium

If Reynolds can flash his 1952 form against the Dodgers' Carl Erskine in the opener the 6 5 odds favoring the Yankees probably will lengthen

Reynolds simply blew his fast ball past Dodger sluggers like Jackie Robinson, Roy Campanella and Gil Hodges last year. But until the final weeks of this season he was only a pale carbon of his old self

"We'll know after the first two innings whether he still has it," said Dodger Manager Chuck Dressen at yesterday s stadium workout "I saw him pitch last week when he struck out 11 but he was throwing the curve—not that 1952 fast ball"

If Reynolds should be knocked out early it would be a severe blow to Manager Casey Stengel's chances of an unprecedented fifth straight championship He wasn't going to use Reynolds in the first game until Whitey Ford s late-season wobbles made him change his mind

Stengel's pitching plans are set with Reynolds Eddie Lopat and Vic Raschi in that order although he insists on a "Raschi or Ford" call for the No 3 Obviously, he counts on Reynolds to come back for No 4 and possibly even for No 7 if it goes that far If Old Case gets a chance to close it out sooner, Reynolds will be in the bullpen

That all is based on a 1952 Reynolds A first-game knockout could scramble the entire plan

Furillo who tested his well-bandaged hand in a special 15 minute batting practice fully intends to play There always remains the possibility that he might reinjure the hand or find it impossible to swing hard in a real ball game

The finger, broken in a fist fight with Leo Durocher Sept 6 was doubly protected in the batting drill In addition to the bandage there was a foam rubber pad, taped to the handle of the bat Dressen hopes he ll be able to discard the pad and some of the bandage by game time

If Furillo does have to miss the series, the Dodgers would be seriously crippled Carl is a fine defensive player with a terrific right arm in addition to holding the National League batting title

Dressen said yesterday he would play either Don Thompson or Dick Williams in right field if he has to replace Furillo

He's swinging just the same as ever" said Dressen after Furillo hit the auxiliary score board in right field on the first bounce in yesterday s workout. 'He ll be ready"

The Yanks still were a bit concerned about Gene Woodling, whose hand was swollen from an injury received two weeks ago Gene ton, used a padded bat in batting practice It didn t seem to hamper him much for he hit two or three balls into the right field seats Woodling was sure he'd be all right

Tomorrow s game, starting at 1 05 p m EST will be broadcast by Mutual and televised by NBC.

Both in League Action

Harding on Road, St. Mary At Home for Games Friday

Both Harding and St Mary were brushing up their defenses today for league games this weekend

The Presidents travel to Tiffin Columbian Friday for their second Buckeye League encounter They will be seeking their third straight win of the season and an extended unblemished mark in the Buckeye League

Pete Howison's charges will go into the tilt as heavy favorites due to the work of the Prexies' defensive unit Thus far Columbus West and Bowling Green s speedy backs have been unable to dent the Prexies' goal line

Only Harding gridder on the injury list for the coming game will be defensive ace Bob Prater. He was banged up in the Bowling Green game and Pete has decided to keep him on the sidelines for a week Hank Rinnert, who has been laid up with a head injury, has returned to practice and is expected to be ready He will be wearing a protective mask but will see action Both Doug Bibler and Fred Price are still limping from foot and leg injuries but will be ready to go .

Coach Ray Robbins and his St Mary team will play host to Mt Gilead in a game at Harding Stadium Friday night The game was originally scheduled for Saturday but was moved ahead due to a Harding reserve band benefit game Saturday.

The Irish will go into their game as favorites also They will be seeking their second win in the newly-formed mid-Ohio Conference and their third of the season. Thus far St Mary has wins over Cardington, in the league, and Lima St Rose

The St Mary defense is also expected to play a major role in the Mt Gilead game The Irish, like Harding have blanked both previous opponents.

ROAD TEST RESULTS SEND THOUSANDS INTO BLUE SUNOCO STATIONS

U. S. Testing Co. proves Blue Sunoco gives up to 12.4% more miles per dollar than 15 premium-priced gasolines—matches them all for acceleration and performance!

Increased activity at Sunoco stations proves motorists are impressed by results of U. S. Testing Company road tests. Of the 16 gasolines tested, High-Test Blue Sunoco, the only regular-priced brand, delivered more miles per dollar, matched the acceleration and over-all performance of its fifteen premium-priced competitors, which cost up to 3 cents more a gallon.

One Grade—Highest Quality

For over 25 years, the Sun Oil Company has produced one—and only one—highest quality gasoline. This policy results in a premium-performing product at regular gas price, as proved by Blue Sunoco's amazing showing against the 15 premium-priced brands.

Make Your Own 10-Gallon Test

Wait until your tank is nearly empty, then fill with 10 gallons of Blue Sunoco See the difference for yourself. Drive in today.

U. S. Testing Co. Certifies Results

Harding in List

Massillon Ruling Roost As State's Top Grid Team

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The boys who know the ball clubs best—the sports editors—are still convinced Massillon's mighty Tigers are the No 1 high school football team in Ohio.

In the first Associated Press poll of the 1953 campaign, 21 scribes put Coach Chuck Mather's five time state champions out front, with Springfield's Wildcats, riding an 18-game winning streak, in second place.

That's just the way the two powerhouses finished in last season's championship voting after compiling 10 straight wins.

Eight of the 21 in the current voting picked the Stark Countians as No. 1, with only two giving Jim McDonald's Wildcats the nod. Massillon piled up 147 poll points to Springfield's 113

Warren Harding was third with 95 points while Portsmouth's resurgent Trojans, who had only four points in the 1952 final poll, were fourth with 85. Steubenville, unmentioned at the end of last season, was fifth with 77, followed by Hamilton, Cincinnati Purcell, Mansfield, Cincinnati Withrow and Cincinnati Hughes.

Only Massillon Springfield and Cincinnati Purcell were among the top 10 in the title race of '52. Purcell taking fourth behind East Liverpool, with a 9-0-1 record. East Liverpool failed to get a point this time.

Steubenville's 32-12 win over East Liverpool was the first Potter loss in 18 games . . .And Lebanon ended a 19 - game losing streak by defeating Wilmington 6-0.

Rujay Jones of Alliance returned a kickoff 92 yards for a touchdown against Youngstown Ursuline, Bob Washburn of Canton McKinley 86 against Warren Harding, and Bill Grove of London 85 against Urbana, but all three were on the losing side.

Chuck Riffle's Warren team held Canton McKinley to minus eight yards rushing . . . Lima Central makes its first appearance against Massillon Friday night, and a trainload of fans will accompany Coach Seraph Pope's squad . . . Other big games send second-place Springfield against fourth-rated Portsmouth, and Lorain against fifth-place Steubenville.

Portsmouth's Leroy Carr has scored three touchdowns in each of the Trojan victories . . . But Springfield has allowed only two touchdowns in impressive wins over Dayton Stivers and Dayton Kiser

Cincinnati attendance is on the upswing One opening game drew 8,000 and one last weekend attracted 10,000,

Ralph (Red) Alvis, warden of Ohio State Penitentiary, and Walter Crewson, Hamilton school superintendent, will be waterboys for the Sebring team Friday night as it plays Louisville. Both are Sebring alumni, and said they'd carry the water buckets if the Trojans won their first two games. They did it 7-0 against Newton Falls and 18-13 over East Palestine. Alva Tetlow, another alumnus, is coaching the Sebring team out of its recent doldrums.

Here's how 21 sports editors rate the teams this week. (First-place votes, and the total points on a 10-9-8-etc. basis.)

Teams	Firsts	Points

Browns on Block

Webb Begins Negotiations For Move to Coast City

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Co-owner Del Webb of the New York Yankees, representing a Western group, was set today to resume negotiations to purchase the St Louis Browns with hopes of transferring the franchise to the Pacific Coast

If Webb is successful, it virtually means that Baltimore is out of the picture. The Baltimore group still battling bitterly for a major league franchise, also had a strong bid in for the Browns' controlling stock. Webb was instrumental in blocking Baltimore's attempt to buy the Browns' franchise last Sunday.

Unable to come to a decision last night regarding the fate of the Browns, the American League owners were scheduled to tackle the problem again late today It was the circuit's third meeting in three days.

The American League did come to two concrete decisions last night after four hours of bickering and haggling with Brownie President Bill Veeck and his associates, who own the majority stock of the Browns.

1. It authorized Webb to negotiate on behalf of unnamed interests for the 79 per cent control of the Brownie stock held by Veeck

2 It announced, through President Will Harridge, that there definitely would be no American League baseball in St Louis in 1954.

The beleaguered Veeck, balked in his efforts to move the Browns to Baltimore, expressed readiness to sell out provided his price of $2,400,000 was met.

It was not known whether Webb's group was willing to bid that high but the Baltimore delegation made a firm offer of $2,236,000.

There was a possibility the league might settle for Kansas City if Los Angeles and Baltimore lose out. Kansas City has made a formal application.

LOOKEE, MR. COBB— I FOUND MY OTHER SHOE! GOLLY, AIN'T I LUCKY? 'CAUSE HAVIN' JUST ONE SHOE IS LIKE HAVIN' NO SHOE AT ALL—
I WOULD NOT CALL IT 'LUCK'— YOU HAD THE GOOD SENSE TO KNOW SHOES DON'T WALK AWAY UNLESS THERE ARE FEET IN THEM—SO YOU WENT SHOE HUNTING—
I'VE WATCHED YOU PROSPECTING AROUND OUR LATE, LAMENTED COTTAGE-ON-WHEELS ALL MORNING— YOU USED THE SAME FORMULA A PROSPECTOR USES TO FIND A GOLD MINE—
MIX A PORTION OF COMMON SENSE— A SMIDGEN OF PATIENCE AND A HEAD OF HARD WORK, AND YOU WILL FIND WHAT YOU ARE LOOKING FOR—AND ALL THE WORLD WILL SAY YOU WERE LUCKY—

Ideas by Employes Welcomed in Cities

CHICAGO (UP) — The Civil Service Assembly says cities are taking a cue from private industry and profiting from employe suggestion systems

Many states and cities have set up cash rewards for ideas which cut costs and save the taxpayers money, the assembly says

Two New York State employes recently saved the state conservation department more than $40 000 and won $2 000 for themselves They invented a chain saw device for cutting and removing underwater pilings and cut a $50 000 job down to $6 000.

A suggestion that old steam radiators in the New York state office building be turned upside down won a $500 for an employe of the department of public works The change adds 20 years to the life of the radiator

A state hospital employe in California was given $100 for suggesting that pillow cases be made of torn bed sheets The idea saves $1 200 a year at the hospital, the assembly reported

Squirrel Far Past Aid, Game Poacher Claims

JACKSON Miss (UP) — Mississippi requires that game killed illegally or out of season must be turned over to hospitals or charitable institutions

The Game and Fish Commission reports that a warden found an aged Negro who had killed a grey squirrel out of season

"Too bad you didn't wait for the season to open, old timer" the warden told him 'Now I'll have to take you to a justice of the peace and let you pay a fine On the way we'll take this squirrel to the county hospital'

"Ain't no use taking him to a hospital" the culprit replied "cause that squirrel is beyond the help of medical science"

SO MANY PEOPLE HAVE ASKED ABOUT THE CONDITION OF SPARKLE PLENTY AND LITTLE WINGY, AS A RESULT OF BEING STUNG BY THE ANTS, THAT WE MUST TELL YOU.
THEY'RE FINE.
BUT THAT GLOW THAT LITTLE WINGY HAD LAST SPRING HAS RETURNED.
DON'T WORRY, NURSE. WE CHECKED WITH THE SWISS DOCTOR BY RADIO. HE SAID IT'S HARMLESS.
HE SAID UNDER CERTAIN CHEMICAL CONDITIONS IN HER BODY THE GLOW WILL RETURN, BUT WITHOUT ILL EFFECTS. THEY'RE BOTH IN FINE SHAPE.
